Russians Roll Through 40 Villages At East Prussian Front

GERMANS DELAY ASSAULT BY PUTTING IN RESERVES

By Tom Yarbrough
LONDON, Sunday, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Russian troops yesterday captured the key road junction of Stryj in the Carpathian mountains on the invasion routes into Czechoslovakia, while in the north other Soviet forces rolled through 40 villages in a fight swaying close to the German East Prussian border.

"Fires are raging in East Prussian frontier towns which now are objectives of Red army infantry attacks," said a Pravda front dispatch. Among the towns listed in the daily Moscow communique was Yurgubdzie, nine miles from the frontier and 31 miles west of Kaunas.

Press dispatches and German broadcasts located the fighting as only three miles from the German border, but it was obvious that the Germans had slowed the Russians on most key sectors by hurling in thousands of reserves rushed to the east from central Nazi reservoirs.

Stryj, 38 miles south of Lwow and about the same distance from the Czech border, commands the roads through the Wysskow and Beskid passes into Czechoslovakia. Its capture by Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army was announced in an order of the day by Premier-Marshall Joseph Stalin.

Russian troops are within 19 miles of the border at Mizyn Stryj, which is about half-way between Stryj and the frontier. Mizyn Stryj was captured several days ago by the Russians, and the Germans for two days now have told of "heavy Soviet pressure against the Carpathian passes."

Beyond the enemy's broken Vistula river defenses, southwest of Sandomierz, the Russians were reported within 30 miles of Krakow and 75 miles from the German border, after crossing the Nida river. But the Soviet communique said of this sector only that the bridgehead had been widened.

AIR RAIDS MADE ON NAZI TARGETS

More Than 1,400 American And British Bombers In Attacks

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Formidable formations of more than 1,400 American and British heavy bombers led the aerial assault on Nazi targets all the way from Brest to Germany today in ideal flying weather.

While more than 1,100 American Flying Fortresses and Liberators returned to northwest Germany for a second blow at enemy war industry in as many days, more than 100 R. A. F. Lancasters dumped six-ton bombs into the front entrances of German submarine pens at the Brittany port of Brest.

The mission was designed to trap the enemy submarines in their pens and block the seaward escape of any high German officers cut off in Brittany until the advancing ground forces could reach the big port.

Lancasters and Halifaxes also delivered their daily punishment to the German flying bomb sources with attacks on a depot at St. Leu Dessest, 30 miles north of Paris, another hidden in a woods near Watter, and launching ramps near the coast.

Still another fleet of Lancasters swooped on the railway bridge at

FORMER HEAD OF STATE PRISON DIES

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Clay J. Dugas, former superintendent of the state penitentiary, died today at the age of 104.

A native of Assumption parish and resident of Baton Rouge since 1928 when he was appointed superintendent of the state prison by the then Gov. Huey P. Long, Dugas also served two terms in the state legislature as representative from Assumption, LaFourche and Terrebonne parishes.

He was engaged in sugar planting in Iberville parish at the time of his death. He was a member of the Benevolent and Protective order of Elks.

Survivors include the widow, six daughters and four sons. Funeral services will be held here Sunday with burial in Roseland Cemetery.

ASKS WILLIAMS TO END URANIA STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The War Labor Board today telegraphed E. H. Williams, president, Louisiana State Federation of Labor, to take all necessary steps to terminate a strike of 285 employees of the Urania Lumber Company, Urania, La.

The workers have been striking since Aug. 2 in protest of the company's refusal to comply with a maintenance of membership provision ordered by the board. They are members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, A. F. L.

ALLIES CAPTURE SOUTH FLORENCE

Bring Up Forces Along 25-Mile Front For Assault

ROME, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Eighth army troops occupied all the southern suburbs of Florence today and brought up their forces along a 25-mile front for an assault across the Arno amid indications the Germans even yet might put up a fight for this cradle of Italian art and culture.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's command declared that the Germans were using Florence for military traffic despite their proclamation it was an open city, and had posted parachute troops along the north bank of the Arno river inside the city limits.

A message from the Florence national committee of liberation said the Germans had evacuated Florentines all along the north bank.

From commanding heights around Fiesole, less than three miles north of Florence, the Germans watched the Eighth army complete the occupation of the southern suburbs.

There were no reports of fighting inside Florence, but the headquarters statement said, "It is clear the enemy intends to oppose the crossing of the Arno on both sides of the city."

There was a brief flurry of fighting between Eighth army elements and German rear guards before the suburbs were entered.

Forces still south of the Arno on the Florentine front were being pressed back against the river and faced the prospect of being cut up by British, New Zealand, Indian and South African forces.

At the western extremity of the Florentine front, the Eighth army was at the Arno at Montepulciano, and on the

SAYS SCHOOL BOYS TO GO INTO ARMY

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, expressed belief today that eligible high school boys of the nation would eventually be in the armed services "regardless of whether or not the war with Germany is ended."

General Hershey told a press conference:

"I can't speak for the navy or war departments, but in my opinion, the high school youth of America who are militarily acceptable will see service in the armed forces after the war in Europe is cleaned up."

"There are a lot of doughboys and other American soldiers who've been in this thing for four years. I think they'll be wanting to come back home."

The general said there was little prospect of rapid demobilization.

"It took 30 months, at 1,000 men an hour, to go from a little over 1,000,000 men to a striking force of 11,000,000," he said. "It is going to take some time after the war to let them out of the armed forces, even if we let them out at the rate of 2,000 men an hour."

Hershey arrived today to confer with selective service officials.

Instructions Are Given In Obedience To Army Ultimatum

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Leaders of the five-day strike which has paralyzed Philadelphia's transportation system ordered their followers back to work tonight in obedience to an army ultimatum.

The back-to-work order was issued in a broadcast which radio station WCAU said was authorized by James H. McMenamin, chairman of the strikers' "general emergency committee," a few minutes before McMenamin was arrested on a charge of violating the Smith-Connally act.

Within an hour, strikers assembled at the car barn which had served as strike headquarters, began signing up to resume their regular runs. The first five to sign were members of the strike committee, who broke the news to the men.

Thousands of troops had poured into the city and the army was ready to operate the Philadelphia Transportation Company's vehicles itself unless the men returned to work at 12:01 a. m. EWT, Monday morning.

Three other men also were arrested on Smith-Connally act violations charges: William C. Dixey, arrested like McMenamin at the radio station; Frank P. Carney, president of the P. R. T. Employees Union, unaffiliated, which formerly represented company employees; and Frank Thompson, who sometimes has been a spokesman for the strikers.

None of the four is a member of the Transport Workers Union (C. I. O.), which denounced the strike. All were given immediate hearings before United States Commissioner Norman J. Griffin.

One bus line, serving the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, resumed operations a little more than an hour before McMenamin's announcement: "I have my orders from the army. All employees are to go back to work at their regular posts not later than 12:01 a. m. Monday morning."

The bus line was the first to run since Tuesday morning. No trolleys ran in this city of 2,500,000 today and only 10 trains, compared with a normal 100.

ALLIES PREPARED TO JAIL GERMANY

Nation To Be Sharply Restricted Until Aggression Outlawed

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—This is an attempt to answer questions of world-wide significance as the Allies approach victory over Germany, which may come suddenly and soon, and almost certainly within a few months.

What plans have been drafted for an armistice? What will be Germany's fate? What steps will be taken to reconstruct Europe and lay foundations for lasting peace?

Many details are still secret, but this analysis is based upon opinions from men of several nationalities and various political philosophies in this international capital.

Victory will find the Allies ready with plans for jailing Germany geographically and economically until a system can be found for outlawing all aggression.

The European advisory committee, the tri-power agency that is drafting and coordinating armistice terms, has accelerated work amid signs that Germany is cracking on both the war and home fronts.

Details are guarded so closely that American Ambassador John G. Winant declines to say how the work is

ALLIED CASUALTIES SINCE D-DAY IN FRANCE 115,665

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The Allies have suffered a total of 115,665 casualties in killed, wounded or missing in France from the invasion on June 6 through July 20, it was announced today.

Of these, United States casualties were 11,026 killed, 52,669 wounded, and 5,831 missing, a total of 69,526. In addition, 130 were killed, 41 wounded and 312 missing in a pre-invasion exercise last April, when German motorboats attacked a convoy, it was disclosed. Thus the American casualties directly connected with the invasion program totaled 70,009.

British losses were 5,846 killed, 27,766 wounded and 6,182 missing, a total of 39,794.

UNFIT MEN PUT BACK INTO WAR

Merrill's Marauders Suffer Serious Breakdown In Morale

By Reiman Morin

GENERAL STILWELL'S HEADQUARTERS IN INDIA, Aug. 5.—(AP)—"An almost complete breakdown in morale" of Merrill's Marauders, one of the most famous American combat organizations, was disclosed today by army authorities, who blamed "ill-advised promises" to the men and faulty hospital procedure which sent convalescents back to the firing line.

The difficulty arose at the end of May, when the American position at Myitkina was precarious, but for security reasons it was disclosed only today following capture of that Japanese base in Burma.

As a result of an official inquiry ordered by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, it was recommended that the men be placed in favored positions for rotation transfers to the United States.

The Marauders' leader, Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, although occupied with directing one phase of the Burma operation, visited the units where disaffection was evident and gathered all available information. General Stilwell wept when he heard that recall of several hundred of the men to active service when physically unfit had resulted from a misunderstanding of his orders that all possible able-bodied personnel be thrown into action.

The official report attaches no blame either to medical officers or combat leaders but says return of unfit men to combat was due to a misunderstanding at a time when the bottom of the barrel was being scraped for manpower to hold the Myitkina air base against Japanese counterattacks.

The Marauders are all volunteers. Some previously had seen service in the Solomon Islands and elsewhere in the Pacific. They were recruited as a special unit, and partly as a result of "ill-advised promises" believed that after one spectacular and difficult mission in Burma they would be sent home and disbanded.

OWN MAN FIRES UPON SURRENDERING NAZIS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Lt. Billy Ashby of Pleasant Hill, La., a patient at Lagarde Hospital here, told today how four German soldiers walked out of a foxhole in Italy to surrender only to be attacked by a fifth member of their group.

"We were pinned down at the time by machine gun fire," the wounded officer recounted. "We heard one of the Germans shout in perfect English from the foxhole that he and the others wanted to surrender. Four Germans came out in single file with their hands up and marched toward one of our scout cars. One of the men in the car called 'Where is the fifth man in your group?' Just then a shot rang out from the foxhole and the fourth man in the German column was killed. The other three escaped to the safety of surrender."

Lieutenant Ashby said he didn't know what happened to the fifth German because his outfit moved up immediately, but said he felt "he was well taken care of."

Canadian casualties were 919 killed, 4,334 wounded and 1,272 missing, a total of 6,525.

Prime Minister Churchill, addressing the house of commons Wednesday, said that when the invasion began the American and British forces were about equal in strength but that now the American forces were larger. He made a point that the losses of the British and Canadians were proportionately about the same as those of the Americans, saying, "It has been share and share alike all along the front."

On the basis of the casualty announcement, this would indicate that Americans composed 60 per cent of the forces in France, the British 34 per cent and the Canadians 5.6.

JAPS HOLD ONLY FOURTH OF GUAM

22,000 Civilians Find Refuge Within American Lines

ALLIED TROOPS ADVANCE IN BRITISH NEW GUINEA

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Quicken American advances on both flanks of northern Guam's jungle fighting line Friday crossed the Japanese defenders back into a sector covering about a fourth of Guam's 225 square miles. Asm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

While the tough jungle-clearing drive to complete the island's conquest progressed into its third week, Nimitz reported the surprising total of 22,000 civilians had found refuge within American lines.

Only a small number of Chanorro natives can now remain in the northern area still held by the Japanese. The 1940 census of Guam's population listed a total of 25,067 inhabitants.

A three-mile American advance on the east coast by the 7th Army Division brought the right anchor of the line to Lunumna Point, two miles north of Sasayan Point.

A mile and a half push by Marines on the west coast reached Ananites Point, gaining full control of Tumon Bay.

The Japanese were cornered in a 56 square mile area at the island's northern tip.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sunday, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Strong American forces stabbed deeper into battered and trapped Japanese forces in British New Guinea, and a new landing on Biak Island, over 400 miles eastward, drew a tighter noose on other encircled Nipponese units, headquarters announced today.

The retreat of Japan's Second army from the Geelink bay area, westward to Biak, continued under blazing Allied aerial and naval harassment.

American forces on the coast have pushed two miles eastward of the Druimur river in British New Guinea in heavy attacks which cost the trapped Japanese another 441

FIRST NEW CARS WILL COST MORE

Prices Of Washing Machines And Refrigerators Also To Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The first new cars, refrigerators and washing machines will cost 20 to 35 per cent more than their pre-war counterparts, a survey of government and trade sources indicated today.

Radio sets will not increase so sharply, but householders can expect a postwar trend to better quality receivers embodying war-time improvements, industry spokesmen reported.

Wage increases, higher material costs and taxes account for the bulk of the expected price rises.

The Office of Price Administration, while inclined to doubt the prices must climb to the full extent claimed by industry, nevertheless indicated it would avoid any price clampdown so severe as to obstruct the rapid reconversion of industry when the time comes.

OPA is preparing for issuance before August 15, it was learned of a statement of policies to govern the pricing of items newly restored to production.

DEWEY CALLS TRIP HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

PAWLING, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, home for a brief rest period after a western trip, asserted tonight that the New Deal lacks "the degree of competence" required to begin an orderly switch-over from war to civilian production as soon as Germany collapses.

The Republican presidential nominee climbed off the campaign trail which took him to St. Louis with 25 other GOP governors at 1:30 p. m. (EWT). He will return to Albany Monday morning.

About 100 townspeople greeted him on his arrival at the station. He shook hands with several before entering a car to go to his farm.

Before he left the train, however, Dewey predicted at a news conference that "a substantial reduction" in war production would occur when European hostilities cease.

By Austin Bealmear
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Hard-driving American armor, sweeping 75 miles in one day to the end of the Brittany peninsula, entered the great port of Brest yesterday while other units reached the Loire river sealing off the peninsula at its base.

At the same time, in a wheeling movement aimed at Paris, other American armored forces drove eastward 27 miles from their previous positions.

It was not immediately known at supreme headquarters which of several columns moving southward had reached the Loire or where. Field dispatches had reported American units racing toward both Nantes, French port 15 miles in from the mouth of the river, and St. Nazaire, another big port 30 miles to the west. Still another column had captured Pontivy 15 miles from Lorient—the peninsula's fourth great port.

The time of the entry into Brest was not known at supreme headquarters but British heavy bombers blasted the submarine pens there at midday and it was disclosed that Spitfire pilots flying as escorts reported sighting Allied vehicles at Morlaix, within 35 miles of the port.

As Brest still smoked from a blasting by British heavy bombers, an official announcement said that armored columns had fought into the city limits of the port, at which fresh armies can be unloaded for the showdown battles of Europe.

Last unofficial reports had put these forces 75 miles away.

Equally momentous was the drive on Paris, which already has paid off a big dividend by crumbling the last of the German defenses in Normandy.

The surprising drive across the Mayenne river in a sector not previously mentioned was one of at least four eastward drives. The others today sent the Germans scurrying across the Orne river and yielding their best remaining positions in Normandy.

The British who had been hammering at the doors of Villers-Bocage and in the Odon-Orne river triangle southeast of Caen suddenly found the enemy was in rapid, but orderly retreat.

The Germans pulled back so rapidly that some of their sentries were left behind, and before long the British were rolling through Villers-Bocage, Noyers, Esquay, Evreux, Aunay and across hills 112 and 113, all strong-points to which the enemy has clung stubbornly for weeks.

Not only were the Germans under frontal pressure from the British and Canadians, but they must have sensed the peril from the three other columns striking as much as 65 miles to the southwest on the road to Paris at a point where their flank was exposed.

Deep below the Bocage country of hedgerows and forests, which had been the core of German resistance, at least two American columns were closing on Domfront, a pivotal city 42 miles southwest of Caen.

One force was at Barenton, 7 miles west, and another was at Le Teilleul, 10 miles west and slightly south, while behind these forces the strategic city of Fougères was firmly in American hands.

Fougères is 27 miles northeast of Rennes and controls all roads leading into the Avranches corridor, through which Allied power is being funneled into Brittany and toward Paris.

Twenty-seven miles east of their last reported positions, and on the direct route to the capital of France, American forces forged across the Mayenne river two miles below the city of the same name.

These forces were nearly 50 miles east and slightly north of Rennes, whose formal capture was completed yesterday, and 27 miles due east of their communications base of Fougères.

OAK GROVE MAN'S WIFE AUSTRALIAN

AN AUSTRALIAN PORT, Aug. 5.—(AP)—More than 300 Australian brides will soon be moving into the American homes of their husbands, now busy fighting the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific.

And 78 of those American homes will welcome for the first time a tiny grandson or granddaughter who became a citizen of the United States at birth because of the father's citizenship. Three years of proper legal procedure will result in the other becoming an American, too.

Many of the children of these international marriages have been born since the father moved on north as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops swept the enemy from New Guinea. Most of the marriages resulted from romances kindled during the early days of the war.

The newest group of women going to America and the homes of their in-laws include the wives of:

DOUBT GERMANY TO BE SPLIT UP

Think First Move For Division Must Come From People

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—If Germany is to be split up into small states after the war, the first moves toward division almost certainly will have to come from the German people themselves.

This is the understanding in diplomatic quarters here, where the results of Allied studies on the advantages which might accrue from division are well known. Apparently, no final decisions have been made, but the weight of opinion is against forcibly breaking up the Reich.

This would not bar the assignment to Poland of East Prussia, and other territory as both Poles and Russians have proposed, nor the prolonged military occupation of German's western industrial areas, which the French Committee of National Liberation suggested.

many as a measure for maintaining European peace have been discussed since the war began. Recently Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, stirred new speculation by outlining in his book a plan for three German states to replace the modern German nation.

Edward R. Stettinius, undersecretary of state, explored the subject with the British in London earlier this year. It has entered also into considerations of the Allied advisory commissions for Europe, which has planned Germany's immediate post-war controls.

Officials here have been reluctant to discuss what would be done with German territory since it is primarily a post-war question to be settled by joint action of the Allied nations. But it is possible to report that at the present time the general answer to the question "will Germany be divided?" is in the negative.

If, however, the German people want to divide themselves along the lines of their political organization of a century ago they will be encouraged to do so.

NEGRO EDUCATION TO BE DISCUSSED

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5.—(AP)—"Higher education of Negroes in Louisiana" and a "testing program for Louisiana high schools" are subjects scheduled to be discussed by the Louisiana post-war education committee at Louisiana State University, next Thursday.

Fred C. Frey, dean of L. S. U. and committee chairman, said today the committee is one of several units established by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools throughout the South.

Meetings, he said, will be held in the L. S. U. Faculty Club starting at 10:30 a. m.

DAVIS SENDS OUT 34 COMMISSIONS

Names Members Of Louisiana
Economic Development Committee

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Gov. James H. Davis has ordered commissions issued to 34 men from over the state as members of the Louisiana economic development committee, now a division of the state department of commerce and industry, including 32 members of the group as it was first organized in 1943 by executive order.

The committee, given added legal recognition by Act 204 of the 1944 legislature, has the duty of "planning, coordinating and directing efforts looking toward economic development, both public and private, in the state of Louisiana, with particular emphasis on postwar development  to meet the unemployment emergency which will arise at the close of the present war."

Officers of the committee are to be moved from New Orleans to the capital office of the commerce and industry department, directed by George Wallace. Division director will remain Caye Nelson, who will be assisted by H. R. Bodemuller, industrial engineer.

The two new members of the committee are Fletcher Cunningham, Shreveport, and William B. Reilly Jr., New Orleans. The new act limits committee membership to 50.

Old committeemen re-appointed include 15 men from New Orleans. Lester F. Alexander, Keen W. Berry, Frank E. Bourgeois, George E. Bu-

Others are N. C. McGowan, W. Frank Metzger, B. A. Hardy, C. P. Couch, all of Shreveport; L. V. Maurer, W. R. Mayo and Arthur R. Gayle, all of Lake Charles; James B. Tgant and Robert D. Reeves of Baton Rouge; Joseph E. Ransdell and R. N. Amaker of Lake Providence; T. O. Bancroft of Monroe; M. W. Walker of Alexandria, J. H. Nelson of Minden, Dave L. Pearce of Oak Grove, B. S. Landis of Winnboro, W. H. Cameron of Winnfield, I. Y. East of Springhill, Marion T. Fannaly of Ponchatoula, Frank A. Godchaux Sr., of Abbeville, A. K. Goff of Ruston, Q. T. Hardtner of Uria.

SIX COMMISSIONS SENT TO OFFICERS

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Secretary of state records today showed the issuance of six commissions, including one to Archie J. Greer as assistant district attorney for the 24th judicial district.

Others went to Grover Alford vice James O. St. Dizier as a member of the West Baton Rouge parish school board, Wallace H. Adams reappointed attorney for the Jefferson Davis parish tax collector, Clarence Romero as a member of the Bayou Carlin No. 2 drainage district board, J. Chris Nungesser reappointed Orleans parish registrar of voters, and Bernard J. McCloskey reappointed attorney to assist inheritance tax collector.

47 NEGRO LABORERS KILLED IN TRAIN

STOCKTON, Ga., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Crushed in the twisted wreckage of a railroad coach, at least 47 Negro laborers homeward bound for the weekend were killed and 32 others injured here late last night when an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train hit a broken rail and hurtled into a side-tracked freight.

Four more bodies were believed pinned in the tangled mass of steel and work crews tonight were attempting to extricate them.

A hospital car carrying wounded soldiers to Finney General Hospital at Thomasville, Ga., was one of six coaches derailed, but A. C. L. officials said only four service men were injured in the wreck and they only slightly. The soldiers were taken to Moody Field at Valdosta, Ga.

The last six cars of the 14-car train, No. 57 en route from Waycross, Ga., to Montgomery, Ala., left the tracks, said A. C. L. General Manager C. G. Sibley at Wilmington, N. C. He said besides the Negro workers' coach and the hospital car, the derailed cars included a sleeper and three empty coaches. No one was injured in the sleeper, Sibley's statement added.

The Negro laborers, all employed by the railroad, occupied a coach belonging to another railroad but under lease to A. C. L., Sibley reported. He described it as all-steel construction.

Traffic was rerouted through Albany, Ga., until the track could be cleared, probably some time tonight.

No one in the crew of 57 was injured, the A. C. L. statement said, but H. L. Tomlinson, station agent at Stockton, said he was informed the fireman on the freight, whose name he did not learn, was scalded.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Real estate transfers recorded yesterday at the office of the clerk of court of Ouachita parish were: Sherrouse Realty Company, Inc., sold to Elvira Robinson Giles lot 11, block 8, Booker T. Washington addition for $75.

OFFICER SOUREAL LEADS MARKSMEN

Police Officer Bill Soureal again topped pistol marksmen of the Monroe police department at the periodic shoot the past week, scoring 125.8 out of a possible 162.5 average for the 31-shot event.

Close behind Soureal were Sergeant Guy Sievers and Officer E. L. Walker, both of whom have finished on top in previous shoots. Sievers was second with 134.8, and Walker followed with 128.6.

Others in the top 10 officers were Officer M. L. Peters, 120; Officer H. J. McMurry, 117.8; Officer R. C. Barker, 117.5; Officer Allen Corbin, 112.8; Officer Richard Minor, 110.4; Officer Jack Davis, 107.9; and Officer J. E. McMullen, 107.7.

A quartet of others, while failing to crack the first ten, finished the shoot with better than 100 scores. Sergeant J. M. Busby had 105.5, Officer E. N. LeVasseur posted an 107.6, Officer Jim Cullipier had 102.4, and Captain J. D. Busby had 104.4.

Several visiting marksmen joined in the shoot with the best scores outside the Monroe police department being turned in by T. O. Bancroft with 128.6, and Chief Jeff Caldwell of the West Monroe police department with 109.6.

NOTING TAX CALLED NEED

Quachita Parish Police Jury is that Quachita parish taxpayers to the polls Aug. 15 and vote new highways and bridges of parish.

Finally, states President A. E. Montgomery, of the police jury, this as two mills but the making of economies has rendered it to reduce the tax to one and half mills, thereby effecting a saving to taxpayers. He urges that the public understand that this is no new tax being imposed but is a re-enactment of a tax that was first imposed in 1913.

Mr. Montgomery states that there are 13 Quachita parish 770 miles of roads, of which 650 are maintained by the Quachita parish police jury. Also 10,000 lineal feet of bridges has to be maintained. On a parish assessment of 46 million dollars, the tax, at one and one-half mills, will produce $68,000 annually. At first glance that may seem a large sum but broken down it is shown to be very conservative, according to Mr. Montgomery.

Dividing the total mileage maintained by the police jury by the sum anticipated as annual tax, shows it leaves $105 per mile per year for maintenance. As there are only approximately 300 working days in the year, it will be readily seen that only 35 cents per mile per day is thus available.

able. This sum is extremely conservative, Mr. Montgomery assures. He states that the maintenance of roads and bridges is a most essential project in any parish and that they must be kept up at all hazards. If the tax is voted again, as is naturally assured, he states that Quachita will have well maintained roads and bridges for the coming five years.

Vidalia Man Again To Head
Group; Committees
Named

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 5.—(Special)—J. L. Murray of Vidalia has been reelected president of the Concordia parish police jury and Abner Maxwell, one of the veteran members of the body, was named as president pro tempore. Others elected were Henry H. Meng Jr., as secretary-treasurer for two years and the president appointed a committee on claims as follows: R. A. Graham, Abner Maxwell, Taylor Wilkinson, Charles Collier, J. S. Staton, C. C. McBride, D. E. Davis, L. R. Allwood, S. P. Crane Jr., M. G. Merace, and S. L. Winston Jr.

A committee on finance was also named with the following as members: L. R. Allwood, chairman, J. S. Staton and Taylor Wilkinson. Upon motion and duly seconded, P. L. Rountree, editor and publisher of The Concordia Sentinel, was again elected parish printer and The Concordia Sentinel was named as the official journal of the parish board.

Richard Porter was retained as parish game warden and parish representative Mike S. Ohlsen was authorized by the police jury to accompany Hugh A. Bateman and Ed Price to Baton Rouge for the meeting with the department of conservation relative to amending article one of the ordinance No. 202, so that certain days during hunting season of 1944-45 may be opened for the hunting of squirrel, bear and deer.

F. B. I. CONFERENCE WILL BE CONDUCTED

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5.—(P)—A. P. Kitchen, special agent in charge of the New Orleans division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced here today that an F. B. I. law enforcement conference will be held in Baton Rouge, August 8, from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. at the Ogden Theater.

Kitchen said the purpose of the conference is to extend training in law enforcement, for the discussion of mutual problems, and for the working out of plans for cooperation among law enforcement agencies, federal, state and local.

SCOUT HONOR COURT WILL BE CONDUCTED

The Boy Scouts will hold a court of honor in the auditorium of Central Grammar School on Friday evening. Board of review reports for this court of honor must be in the Boy Scout office in the court house by 5 p. m. Thursday, George D. Holland, chairman of the court of honor, said yesterday.

An unusually large number of awards will be presented inasmuch as Scouts who earned honors during the camping season will receive those awards at this court of honor.

Another Case Of Defiance

Station KSTP in Minneapolis may not get very far with its request to the National War Labor Board that the president take over Minneapolis Local 73, American Federation of Musicians, because of the local's continued strike in alleged defiance of the WLB. It's an interesting idea, however, as a test of possible precedents established in the Montgomery Ward case; circumstances in both disputes are somewhat similar.

James Caesar Petrillo, the Federation of Musicians' national president, ordered a strike of the 16 union musicians at KSTP on July 25. Since then, the president of KSTP alleges, Mr. Petrillo has ignored the WLB order for the men to return to work. The radio executive also alleges that Mr. Petrillo previously defied the WLB when he failed to appear in response to a summons during a contract dispute last May.

It is further contended that Local 73 is run "like any other business," not only with the usual officers and board of directors, but with a sideline operation of a restaurant, poolroom and bar, duly licensed in the local's name.

President Roosevelt, it will be recalled, exercised his war-time power to take over Montgomery Ward because the company had defied the government, as represented by the WLB, and because its business was necessary to prosecution of the war. (A regional WLB later ruled that a Sears, Roebuck and Company plant in Milwaukee, engaged in business similar to Montgomery Ward's, was not a war industry).

But it will also be remembered that Attorney General Biddle by-passed the war-necessity line of approach in justifying the government's action in the Ward case by stating in federal court that "no business or property is immune to the presidential order."

In the present request of KSTP for government seizure, the WLB opinion is that the War Labor Disputes Act prohibits any action against a union until the plant involved is taken over. Yet there remains Mr. Biddle's unqualified opinion that "no business or property" is immune to the executive's power.

So far the government has never challenged the powerful Mr. Petrillo's pursuit of what he wants.

We think that it might be to the benefit of labor if his frequently unreasonable demands might once be challenged. Particularly in circumstances similar to those which resulted in punitive action against Montgomery Ward, it seems only fair that the government pursue a consistent course, no matter which foot the shoe happens to be on.

MUSICO-POLITICS

Time was when a man scarcely dared run for president unless he'd been born in a log cabin. The horny hand of toil was good for an extra parcel of votes, and addition to such roughly masculine habits as chawin' tobacco or eating with the knife were positive assets in the frontier regions.

But that time is long since departed. Instead, the rough-and-tumble of the quadrennial election is beginning to show some esthetic symptoms. In fact, 1944 may go down in our history as the year in which culture and politics joined hands, and music really came into its own.

There is ample evidence to back this assertion. Scarcely had the cheers from the Democratic convention died down when the papers came out with a picture of vice-presidential candidate Harry Truman seated at the piano. Next day the Republicans countered with a photograph of Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey at the keyboard.

Now there were no "they laughed when I sat down at the piano" pictures. Both performers looked competent and at ease.

Mrs. Dewey, as you probably know, was a singer who appeared professionally in musical stage productions. She probably plays the piano as well as most singers (which, generally speaking, is a darned sight better than most pianists sing). And this talent, coupled with her husband's well-known musical attainments, would seem to put the Republicans ahead in the musico-political field.

Who knows, perhaps the deciding factor in the Democrats' choice of Mr. Roosevelt's running mate was the fact that Senator Truman was the only prospect who could slug it out, note for note, with the Deweys. For the president, though reputedly a better than passable tenor in an impromptu quartet, has been getting elected to political offices for years without raising his voice in song.

But that doesn't mean that a large part of his popularity isn't vocal. Through three terms in office, his fireside chats have won him a following of unprecedented enthusiasm. He is, we might respectfully suggest, a sort of Sinatra of the spoken word. If anybody can beat him, it will probably have to be a singer.

COUGAR LORE

Once again argument is flaring in a national forum about the American lion or cougar. Will a cougar attack man, and does a cougar scream much like a woman? These are the questions being debated in national sporting magazines by Marvin Winsett and Monroe H. Goode.

Goode asserts that cougars have often attacked man and that too many lion hunters have heard them scream to permit of any doubt. Winsett pictures the cougar as cowardly, almost mute, and questions whether they have attacked man except on rare occasions.

So far the evidence favors Goode, who has cited case after case of cougars attacking man, occasionally with fatal results. The debate is bringing out facts that probably would have been lost to the record had it not occurred.

One thousand four-engine bombers flying to an objective 1,000 miles away and fueled by 100-octane gasoline can carry 5,000,000 more pounds of bombs than could be carried if they burned 91-octane.

The first automobile to provide a circulating motor lubrication system was the Autocar model of 1904, which was made at Ardmore, Pa.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—I wonder when a ceiling will be reached in the spending spree now running riot in the studios? Never have salaries been so high, never have producers paid such unbelievable prices for books, plays and stories and never have all items, from the cost of movie sets to extras' pay vouchers, approached today's dizzy figures.

It is a matter of easy come, easy go. At no time in screen history have studios wallowed in profits to equal today's. But more important than profits as a basis for spending is the common excuse: "Why not? The money would go to taxes anyway."

And so, rather than let it "go to taxes," Hollywood is flinging enormous checks about like so many pieces of paper. Half a million dollars for one stage play. A blank check, to be filled in for "any amount you deem fair," sent to a famous author in a bid for screen rights to that author's new book.

One day, there must come an end to this Midas-like wealth. One day, (and soon, at the rate we are winning the war), an end must come to the wild spending. And there poses a question: Just how will the industry curb spending? How can Hollywood re-educate playwrights and authors and stars to accept lower prices?

The cutting down will be much more difficult than has been the ease of purse strings. It is always more difficult to economize. Hollywood will be wise to remember this, and to commence tightening a few of those purse strings now.

If I needed proof that Hollywood thinks the war is nearing its end, I would have it in the greatly increased number of divorce rumors sweeping the town. Without mentioning names, no fewer than eleven such reports have been whispered into my ears within the past week. When we were concentrating on winning the war and there was some doubt about what might happen, folks worked together harmoniously. Families, particularly movie colony families, were too busy fighting Nazis and Japs to indulge in personal quarrels. I'll keep my eye on Hollywood tiffs and let you know just about when overseas hostilities will cease.

Anne Baxter heard a new kind of compliment (new to her, I mean, if not to Boris Karloff) when, after a preview of "The Guest In The House," a studio executive told her that "the audience boomed you heartily." You see, Anne plays the part of a girl who makes all sorts of trouble and she does the job with realism. But on hearing of the public's reaction, I couldn't help reflecting that this is a strange business, when boos and hisses please a pretty young girl because they mean success.

I hope, when the Republic picture, "Flame of The Barbary Coast" reaches theaters, that the press and public will extend Ann Dvorak the "welcome back" that she deserves. For the past three years, Miss Dvorak has been in England, where she did war work of the dudgery, all-out type while her husband, Leslie Fenton (who received serious injuries and a medical discharge), was serving the Allies in uniform. Ann was the first Hollywood actress to utterly desert her career to join the war effort. If she has been forgotten meanwhile, let us prod our memories with cheers.

I wonder what Betty Grable is thinking, in case she has been eyeing the advertising posters for MGM's "Bathing Beauty"? That film ostensibly stars Red Skelton but it also features an intriguingly contoured lady named Esther Williams. Some folks are saying Miss Williams can give Miss Grable thighs and ankles and still cop the Wow-What-a-figure honors. MGM is planning a big build-up for Esther, and with Betty's latest picture, "Pin-Up Girl," proving far from sensational, the latter lady will have to trot those pretty legs going, else she will be running a poor second to her newest rival.

George Murphy, the actor, has written an opus entitled "Hollywood Hand Book," which will be published this fall. It will offer several good ideas as a movie actor. Murphy's volume isn't the first of its kind but it does have one distinct advantage over all others I have read: It was written by a man who made good. Too many books of "advice on acting" have been concocted by persons who never saw the inside of a studio.

You know, there isn't much difference between the success stories of Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra. Bing earned millions with his "Boo boo boo," and Sinatra is fast duplicating Crosby's monetary achievements with his "Moo moo moo." (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

BY HENRY McLEMORE

By Mrs. Henry McLemore

It seems a long time ago that I, Henry, had bestowed on him since he's been in the army. First he was a Squad Leader for a little while till they caught up with him and busted him. And now word comes that he has been made a Tent Leader. Read for yourself what Omar Khayyam McLemore has to say:

"Dear Jeanie: Today I was made a Tent Leader. I don't know exactly what this entails but I can pretty well guess. All I can pretty well guess I got the job. A tent leader is supposed to see that the tent is kept in perfect order all of the time and he's supposed to get after anyone who isn't neat. It so happens that the rest of the fellows in my tent are neat and it's always my stuff that's lying around getting in everyone's way. My chief job will be to force Sgt. McLemore to mend his ways. That guy has given me a lot of trouble since I've been in this man's army."

"I had kind of an unfortunate accident with my laundry this morning. I put all my clothes in a big pot to give them a good boiling. Knowing that a watchman never boils, I wandered off. Came back in an hour and you never saw such a witches' brew as greeted my eyes. I had thrown a shirt into the pot that had about ten tabernacle tablets in it of its pockets. These anti-malaria pills are the most vivid yellow on earth. So is every single thing that I own now. Shirts, socks, handkerchiefs, caps, pants, ties. The color is absolutely fast so I'm going to finish this war looking exactly like a comic opera soldier.

You asked me why I was made a sergeant. Clear living, hard work, devotion to duty, soldierly bearing and manner, loyalty, patriotism and a mistake somewhere along the line account for it. Somewhere, I'm sure, some poor Joe, who has been waiting for a staff sergeancy for a long time is still sweating out his promotion that I got.

No, Jean, a staff sergeant does not carry a staff. His sword, his swagger, his ill-treatment and his lordly bearing make a staff unnecessary.

"This will amuse you, I think. I had to try to sew on my own stripes and after about an hour of hard sewing on one sleeve, I put on my shirt and the stripes were underneath my arm. I gave up then. The only way anyone can see those stripes is if they happen to catch me (1) surrendering, (2) picking apples off a tree, (3) catching a high forward pass, (4) stroking a pet giraffe, or (5) waving goodbye to a friend flying overhead in a plane. I'm looking up rules and regulations to see if the army frowns upon a man wearing a sandwich board to proclaim his rank."

Five letters yesterday so now I'm worried that far there will be lean days ahead. If you could possibly write me your letters mean I don't think you'd write less than three times a day. It makes me feel actually a little sick when mail call passes me by.

"Stop reading and get to writing!" "All my love," "HENRY."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Sunday School Lesson For August 13

Text: Samuel 2:27-30; 4:12-18
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The lessons for the coming three weeks will deal, respectively, with the prophet, and the king in the life of Israel.

The lessons center around the lives of three men: Eli the priest, Samuel the prophet, Saul the king. Consideration of the function of one involves study of the others. There were greater and better priests than Eli, more richly endowed and deeper-seated prophets than Samuel, nobler kings than Saul, who began well but ended in failure and suicide.

Sometimes the functions of all three were combined in one man, as in Samuel, who was not king in name but who was actually the ruler, and who felt it very keenly when the people rejected his leadership and asked for a king.

If Eli is not the highest representative of the priestly class in Israel, in himself and in his career he offers an excellent case study of ministerial life, ideals and character, and incidentally of the tragedy of failure. Unless it be the prophet, with his eyes full of vision, and his heart full of love, and his mind full of convictions, there is no higher type among men than the faithful priest or minister of God, sincerely and thoroughly consecrated, unselfishly serving his fellowmen. But because the place and attainment are high, there is nothing lower among men than the faithful priest or minister, the man who makes his position or office the occasion for his own interest or aggrandizement.

In the story of Eli both types are exemplified. Eli at his best is the faithful priest, so devoted to his religious service and to his people that he falls from his seat backward, breaking his neck, when a runner brings the news that Israel has been completely defeated in battle, and that the Ark of the Lord has been taken by the Philistines. He appears in the record as a sincere well-intioned man; but he was a failure as a father, and he allowed the priestly office to be corrupted and perverted in his sons.

The indictment of Eli is that "his sons made themselves vile and he restrained them not."

These sons of Eli were, indeed, deep-dyed rascals; sheer hypocrites who had no care for religion at all but to use it for their own ends. Fortunately there have been many priests or ministers like them. Even Paul kept himself under discipline lest having preached to others he should be a castaway. There have been ministerial tragedies among those who were not wise like Paul.

Some years ago these tragedies were the subject of a book issued by an atheistic group of the sort that takes a perverse delight in attacking the Christian religion. The list of cases in this scandal-mongering publication seemed formidable until one realized how few they really were in comparison with the great number of ministers.

The average minister is a good man, doing his best according to his faith and his limitations. His is a divine calling but he's human. Congregations are the magnets that draw to them priests or ministers that they deserve.

TWO STOLEN AUTOS HUNTED BY POLICE

Monroe police last night were conducting a search for two automobiles reported stolen here some time Friday night.

Sgt. L. N. Wiley, 3415 Gordon avenue, told police his 1941 Plymouth had been stolen from his residence. The car had Louisiana license No. 216-588 on the rear and Tennessee license No. 128-549 on the front.

The other missing car was reported taken from Davis Motors, corner North Second and Washington streets. The machine was described as a 1941 Buick with Louisiana license No. 211-519.

IN WASHINGTON

By Thomas M. Johnson (NEA Military Writer)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—News from Germany has greatly speeded planning for her future by government agencies here which see a chance of an earlier collapse than had been reported—although that was less early than many Americans have believed.

Allied military experts are virtually agreed that if we want a peace worth the paper it is written on, the first clause must disarm Germany completely and utterly. That is a bitter, unpopular reason for the attempted revolt of some German generals still untouched by the Nazi madness.

They have means of knowing what the distinguished professional soldiers of Britain, Russia and this country decided after studying the problem of peace in Europe from a practical aspect untinted by sentimentality. These Reichswehr chiefs want to cut Germany's losses, play safe and get her out of a bad business with at least a shirt. But Hitler wants a desperate last stand, a gamble that the Allies will tire of blood-letting and ease off.

But once again, the Corporal of Berchtesgaden is befouling his country. For the fact is that the longer he fights, the better the chance Germany will lose her shirt. Indeed, if some people like the Poles, the Belgians, the Czechs and the French had their way, Germany would be flayed alive. The longer Hitler fights, the stiffer his peace terms will be. Already they are likely to be very stiff.

Nobody Wants The Germans
Representatives here of Poland, France, Holland and other victimized countries will want some of what is now German soil—but no Germans. They will make strong argument in logic and justice.

That would mean large interchanges of population. It would ring Germany with nations all strengthened by addition of soil to which some have excellent claims, some not, and by more homogeneous populations. Germans and Poles, for instance, would be interchanged as they should have been and were not after 1918. The Turks and Greeks have shown how this is practicable and makes bad neighbors good ones.

More Germans would be crammed into less space—the Czechs want the Sudetenland but without the Sudeten Germans who now inhabit it. Few nations are likely to welcome Germans as immigrants. But belief grows that the Germans will still be able to make a good living if they try. For instance, converting some of their enormous and unproductive state-owned forests to farmland and by tilling their soil so well that it produces as much as does Holland's, which is only 70 per cent as good but nevertheless is made to outstrip Germany's.

Germany will have to farm more if the military men have their way. They would strip her not alone of army, navy and luftwaffe—especially luftwaffe—but of the means to build them up again. All machines, tools and factories meant to make arms or anything like arms would be wrecked.

20 Years Of Re-Education
To insure that Germany will keep the peace in future will mean disarmament and re-education. That will probably take 20 years under an Allied armed guard—also a lot of help from a large Allied civilian reconstruction organization.

Those views are not all official nor officially adopted but they may well prevail. Some well-informed Americans hold them and so do many Russians who are very realistic and on some counts would go farther than we.

To reconstruction, some British civilians want to welcome Germany again more quickly to full partnership in world endeavor—partly from what they hold to be humanitarian motives, partly as a possible customer for themselves and a counter-poise to Russia.

The military men say there can be no peace with Germany if before she

New York

Day By Day

By CHARLES H. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

WICHITA, Kan.—Diary: I did not go on my reading last night. I left New York for a swift halt. Wichita, I slipped a copy of a book into my briefcase. It is "Unconsidered Judgment," by No-Bus, one of the editors of Life. It's a good book, and I almost left it by heart. It is published by Houghton, and is slim only because of type, narrow margins, and type, closely packed in. I left most of the night and had to cross the eastern half of the continent, waiting for a westbound train that didn't have somebody in it. If it hadn't been for that book the night might have seemed rather long.

I left New York on a TWA liner at 9 p.m. and was put off the plane for non-priority in Pittsburgh, Dayton, Chicago and Kansas City. If there'd been any other places to put me off, I'm sure I would have had to buy another book. Fortunately, I hadn't any parachute, so they couldn't put me off in mid-air.

If you're asking my advice about travel by air, for once in my life I'll say, "Don't do it! Wait until peace comes or the airlines get back the planes they gave up to the government after Pearl Harbor."

There aren't enough planes or seats to accommodate any considerable portion of the customers. Don't believe anybody who tells you that you don't really need a priority. It sounds easy when you read Mrs. Roosevelt's accounts of her flights, hither and thither, night and day. But just try it! The lady from Pennsylvania avenue carries a pretty good identification card, plus what I presume to be an A-1 priority.

No, I wasn't flying for pleasure nor for thrills. I will be able to tell you the why of the flight after the censors have looked over some copy yet to be written. Suffice it to say now that I carry a war department authorization in my pocket. It doesn't get me a seat on a plane, however.

I know how the prisoner feels when the lawyer tells him, as the sheriff slams the jail door upon him, "They can't do this to you!"

Because of the job I was coming out to do, I was assured by the various arrangers that I wouldn't need a priority. They just simply wouldn't put me off.

First stop, Pittsburgh, and first passenger shoved off by the urbane Hostess Stigel, this customer.

There were hours of waiting through the night, at all stops, after a half day's wait at Kansas City.

At that town, however, the train passed pleasantly enough. Joe G. bert, who owns the lunch room at other concessions at the airport, asked me to sign his handsome autograph book. Then the waitresses had an autograph menu, books, vanity cards and slips of paper. The customers to it up, supposing, I suppose, that I had something to do with Hollywood maybe playing villain parts. Then I gave me his car and a driver, as I did some errands in the town.

So here we are in the old hon ton, landing on the finest airport in the world, and scooting thence to wide highways to the center of town in a friend's car.

Well, as Hitler might have remarked about Berlin, what war can do to town.

TOMMY MANVILLE WILL MARRY AGAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(P)—Tommy Manville announced today that he will marry Collette Francis, 30, blond former Carl Carroll showgirl, by September 1. She will be the eighth Mrs. Manville.

"I've known her a long time," Manville said. "It's about time grandpa's py settled down, don't you think?"

He added that this marriage was going to last.

"I can't afford any more tickets to Reno," he said, "and anyway you can get tickets."

Manville said that she and the much-married Manville had known each other 13 years and been "very, very dear friends for ages."

The couple announced that they planned to adopt a child.

"It isn't as though we just met," said Manville. "We want company."

LEVEE BUILDING CONTRACTS GIVEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5.—(P)—The United States Engineers' office here announced today awarding of dredging and levee construction work contracts totaling $1,566,580.

Five levee contracts, totaling approximately $1,500,000, call for construction of levees on the west bank of the Mississippi river in Concordia and Tensas parishes.

Contractors listed on the projects were Cook Construction Company, Jackson, Miss.; H. B. Blanks, St. Joseph, La.; D. W. Winkelman Company, Inc., Natchez, Miss.

The McWilliams Dredging Company, of New Orleans, received a contract of $465,580 for removing and disposing of approximately 1,400,000 cubic yards of material from the river at Kempe Bend, near St. Joseph.

Underwood said that approximately 3,500 men and women will be needed in the New Orleans area to handle the 1944 seafood harvest, and that only 1,700 persons are available at present.

W RECRUITER TO AID WAVES

May Burton Is Now located At Monroe Headquarters

Alice May Burton, specialist recruiter third class of the women's reserve of the navy, better known as WAVES, is now at the navy recruiting station, Monroe, La., where she is on duty from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.
Interview young women of north-Louisiana who wish to serve their country in the WAVES.

Miss Burton, whose home is in San Mateo, Calif., points out that at the present time the WAVES are celebrating their second anniversary, two years of outstanding service, and that the WAVES have never been an auxiliary force of the navy, but an integral part of its shore station establishments.

It is not the intention of the navy to make the WAVES a military branch of service. WAVES are first of all women, and are so by the training they have received in their Christian homes. It is the purpose of the training to heighten their love for their country and to make them realize what America offers them. Femininity is stressed at all times. The smart uniforms are an excellent example of that.

When asked if the men of her family sanctioned her enlistment, Miss Burton laughed and pointed out that her step-father was a lieutenant commander on duty in San Francisco, her two cousins were pharmacists mates and electricians on duty in the Pacific, and another cousin was an ensign who recently received his promotion from chief electrician's mate and was serving on a battle-ship with the fleet. "And they certainly are as proud of me as if I were serving right with them on their ships. And all the men who have sisters and wives in the WAVES feel the same way."

WAVES do not go overseas, are allowed to marry while in service, and receive all the benefits that the men in the navy are also receiving. In order to qualify, a girl must be 20 years old or over, in good health and have at least two years of high school training. If she is accepted by Miss Burton she will be sent to Shreveport in a government station wagon and will be given the aptitude and physical examinations necessary for WAVE enlistment. If found qualified she will be sworn into the naval reserve and return to her home on the same day.
The applicant bringing a baptism of birth certificate will expedite her enlistment greatly.

"WAVES are keeping the fleet at sea and bring the boys home sooner," said Miss Burton in closing the interview. "I'm really proud to be a member of my country's naval reserve."

Monroe delegates to the 28th annual meeting of the International Association of Lions Clubs have just returned from Chicago where sessions were held for four days starting August 1. Delegates from the Monroe
Lions Club were: J. Norman Coon,
John Kelso and E. G. Gibson. Mrs.
Gibson and Mrs. Coon also attended the meeting.

There were present 2,385 accredited delegates who were representatives of 14 nations and registered as visitors in addition to the delegates there was a total of 5,500.

The officers elected for the coming year were: D. A. Skeen, Salt Lake City, Utah, president; Dr. Ramiro Collazo, Havana, Cuba, first vice-president; Clifford D. Pierce, Memphis, Tenn., second vice-president; Fred W.
Smith, Ventura, Calif., third vice-president.

Meivin Jones, of Chicago, was continued as secretary-general, having filled that office since the organization of the international association, which comprises 4,396 clubs with a total membership in excess of 177,000.
E. C. Gibson, of Monroe, completed two years as director in the association, having been elected at the convention held in Toronto, Canada, in 1942. He is manager of Hotel Frances in Monroe.

ALLIED MISSION COMPLETES TOUR

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 5.—(AP)—
An American-British-Russian supply mission completed a two-day tour of war installations here late yesterday and left by plane for Washington.

A joint statement by the three ranking officials, William L. Batt, vice-chairman of the WPB; Lt. Gen. L. G.
Rudenko, chief of the Russian purchasing commission to Washington, and Lord Pentland, British member of the United Nations production and resources board, said:

"We have witnessed today an extraordinary feat of American ingenuity and industry. The full conversion of a pine forest into three great war plants including the largest aviation gasoline refinery in the world, the synthetic rubber and ammonia plants.

"The management of Cities Service Company, Firestone and Kellogg Companies, we offer congratulations in the name of three mighty allies on the work of the management and the men who built and are operating these powerful industrial weapons in the war of liberation."

SOCIAL DISEASE STILL STUDIED

Dr. Mengis Gives Further Consideration To Perils At Home

By Dr. C. L. Mengis
(Director Parish Health Unit)

Dr. Pelouze, one of the foremost authorities on gonorrhea in the United States, now serving with the United States Public Health Service as consultant in venereal diseases, makes the following statement:

"Above all, let us realize that, as things are at present, we have already started toward the greatest epidemic of gonorrhea that our country has ever experienced. Whether we reap its full harvest or check it, depends upon what we do about the matter, and how we do it. It is not alone the problem of the armed forces and the health authorities; it is the problem of society at large and the medical profession in particular."

Various reasons are given by Dr. Pelouze—(1) An overenthusiastic press has led the public to think that the new sulfonamide drugs have eliminated gonorrhea as a national problem—this publicity has caused a complete reversal of the old order—today, the tablet is king, and the physician is merely the means of obtaining the tablet. In the southern and eastern states, the physician is not even thought of, and the drugstore takes his place in a dangerous number of cases. In other words, thousands upon thousands of patients make their own pronouncement of cures and blithely return to their former activities. (2) The rapid disappearance of symptoms has led to the assumption of a "cure" in thousands of cases where the patient merely became free of symptoms while remaining infectious to others—this is particularly true in the female, where such an infection may exist (as a cervicitis) for some time. We started off with the false assurance that the sulfonamide drugs would cause a complete cure in five days of 80 per cent of cases so treated—now we consider ourselves lucky to get 25 per cent positive cures. (3) The increase of sexual promiscuity which has always accompanied war has resulted in a wholesale spread of the infection, the armed forces reporting anywhere from 15 to 30 cases of gonorrhea to one new case of syphilis. An increase of 11 per cent in new cases of g. c. among civilians is revealed by reports of state health officers during six months period ending Dec. 31, 1943, while at the same time, new syphilis cases dropped 16 per cent.

Dr. Pelouze further states, that in many patients the duration of the carrier state is such as to offer us a terrific challenge in these days of ready assumption of cures because all symptoms have disappeared. The solution of this problem calls for patient control and patient instruction by physicians regarding the protection of others for far longer periods of time than are being carried out in other words, we should get the mind of the patient upon the physician and foster the view that the tablets are a valuable adjunct rather than the all-end-all cure. In addition, local treatment under medical supervision is indicated in about 50 per cent of the male patients and about 70 per cent of the female, unless penicillin can be had at a cost low enough for the income of the group wherein most g. c. cases occur. The definite sulfonamide failure needs local treatment by physicians, and the carrier stage will be greatly shortened, society needs it for its case holding value, and it is the surest way the physician can resume his rightful and highly needed place in the scheme as it now exists.

For a long time, health authorities, like the United States Public Health Service and various state boards, were only interested in syphilis and it is only within the last two years, that an indigent g. c. case would be accepted in health clinics. I agree with Dr. Smilie, that syphilis has become more specifically a problem of the Negro race. We see very few new syphilis patients among the whites, while on the other hand, the Negro race, under sulfonamide treatment, has a percentage of cases of gonorrhea, in some states, as high as 80 per cent.

We have found that a positive Wassermann, or blood test for syphilis, does not always mean that the person has the disease—sometimes an X-ray of the chest reveals a tubercular condition that might be the causative factor and not syphilis, and also a positive serology might be found in malaria. And again, after long and arduous treatment, with arsenic and metals, a person might still have a positive Wassermann—in these cases the spinal fluid can furnish the only diagnosis.

The policy of the state board of health is to refer all cases, both syphilis and gonorrhea, to the practicing physician, when it appears that the patient is well able to pay for the treatment.

However, in these referred cases, we do expect the following information:

1. The reporting of the disease either by name or initials, and the stage at present, whether infectious or non-infectious.
2. If possible, without violation of a confidence, the source of the infection, so that others may be contacted and treated if necessary.
3. If the patient becomes delinquent in his attendance, we would appreciate that information. As now happens, in quite a few instances in early infectious syphilis, the patient makes one or two visits to the doctor and then quickly fades from the picture—until another contact develops a venereal disease and names this party as the source of infection.

We have the authority to isolate or quarantine this type of case until sufficient treatment renders them non-infectious—usually from 6 to 10 weekly injections of both arsenicals and metals will accomplish this purpose. In gonorrhea, we should have at least three negative reports on gonorrhea smears, both cervical and urethral, in the female—one negative doesn't mean a thing, at our isolation hospitals, five negatives are required before release. For an example, we had one girl that was always negative in our clinic, yet she was named by several soldiers at different times as being the contact for gonorrhea—we finally sent her to our isolation hospital, where there were three negative smears and cultures, before a positive diagnosis was made, penicillin was administered and five negatives for smears and cultures were made before this girl was released some time in early June—up to this time, there has been no history of a reinfection in this particular case.

4. We will furnish free, all arsenicals, heavy metals, Sulfathiazole tablets, distilled water to any practicing physician that will treat an indigent or semi-indigent patient for any venereal disease, but we have a right to expect, for statistical purposes, the prompt reporting of all such cases under treatment. We treat, as confidential all such reports and no information is given except upon the oral or written request of the patient.

I don't remember whether or not I discussed some time previously the attempted program of rehabilitation for these girls who have been repeatedly arrested for promiscuity. I thought, perhaps, that if a decent living wage in some industry or vocation, was provided for these girls, that they would cease to sabotage the man power of the armed forces.

Mr. Willis, the director of the West Monroe Trades School, who is cooperating with Higgins, Inc., of New Orleans, agreed to take six girls out of 24 who were then confined in the parish jail, pay them 50 cents an hour while in training, and upon completion of the course, get them jobs as welders at $1.37 an hour in an essential industry. The police jury set up a revolving fund of $100.00 to be administered by the health unit, to care for the girls in private homes and advance sufficient money to buy overalls, gloves, goggles, etc., this amount to be repaid from subsequent checks.

We got the money back alright, and the police jury got a check for $100.00, but the rehabilitation was only partially successful—several completed the course, two securing jobs elsewhere, but today, as far as is known, not one of the girls is presently employed in that particular vocation—three have returned to Monroe and have resumed their former profession, one rejoined her husband, and another got married—perhaps some credit might be given to the program for the salvaging of these two girls, but on the whole, as far as contributing to an essential war program, the effort was fruitless and died a natural death.

mal 42, ran on one subway line. The other subway line did not operate. Thousands of trolley and battle trucks streamed into Philadelphia by truck convoy and train today under orders to restore service on the city's strike-paralyzed transit lines and the army, declaring "the war cannot wait," said soldiers will "operate vehicles" wherever necessary effective at 12:01 a. m. Monday.

National selective service in Washington issued a blunt "work or fight" order canceling occupational deferments of all involved in the 5-day-old strike.

Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, who seized the lines Thursday night by order of President Roosevelt, warned that any of the 6,000 strikers who failed to return would be fired "at once" and said armed soldiers will "ride as guards on every bus, trolley, subway or elevated train that runs over this system."

"Soldiers will be used only to operate vehicles which otherwise would remain idle," Hayes said.

Hayes threw the full weight of federal law and might at the strikers in a climactic effort to end an unauthorized stoppage that has slashed vital war production, caused race violence and inconvenienced a city of more than 2,000,000.

He denied them referral to any other jobs.

He announced that none would be granted unemployment compensation. He disclosed the selective service order cancelling deferments.

And he announced that the F. B. I. and the department of justice "have been requested to invoke" the Smith-Connally anti-strike act providing fines and imprisonment for any striking against government-operated industry.

Even as he released the statement, Attorney General Biddle in Washington ordered a grand jury investigation.

"Each day this transit system is idle we lose desperately needed guns, trucks, ammunition, radar equipment and other critical material because workers cannot get to their jobs," he said.

"If we were losing similar quantities of material as a result of enemy action we would not hesitate to take drastic steps to end our losses. In this case, where the lives of our fighting men and the progress of the war are involved, we must be equally decisive."

Troops began arriving in mid-city before Hayes' announcement.

Helmeted soldiers with fixed bayonets leaped from trucks at some residential street intersections and took over the direction of traffic.

Elements of two infantry regiments were sent speeding vehicles and about 150 military policemen arrived at the Pennsylvania Railroad's 30th street station.

One convoy, which arrived on the main artery from nearby Fort Dix, N. J., went to George's Hill in Fairmount Park and ordered picnickers to leave immediately.

None of the soldiers would talk.

As the 6,000 strikers continued defiance of the army, which seized the lines Thursday night by order of President Roosevelt, a high source said they would be given one more chance to return to their jobs.

United States District Attorney Gerald A. Gleason announced issuance of warrants for the strike leaders after a conference with Henry A. Schweinhaut, special assistant United States attorney general, and John F. Sears, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here.

"Mr. Schweinhaut and I," he said, "have authorized the issuance of warrants for violations of the Smith-Connally act against the following persons—"

United States Commissioner Norman J. Griffin waited in his office to hold hearings as soon as the men were brought in.

The warrants specifically charge those named with knowingly, willfully and unlawfully conspiring, inducing, inducing and encouraging certain employees of the Philadelphia Transportation Company to interfere by strike and other interruptions with the operation of the said company, which was then and there a vehicle and transportation system in possession of the United States of America by virtue of an executive order of the president of the United States, dated as of Aug. 4, 1944.

Conviction carries a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine, one year's imprisonment, or both.

Three regiments of the Pennsylvania state guard were hurriedly during the day and a high source said they would be used to suppress law breakers if violence should occur. Another competent authority reported the units would protect the federal soldiers. Later, however, the guard units were demobilized and a spokesman said it had been a "practice drill."

Meanwhile buses, trolleys and Broad street subway trains remained out of operation for the fifth day and 6,000 strikers protesting the promotion of eight Negro workers to drivers' jobs—again defied back-to-work orders of the army, which seized the paralyzed lines Thursday night by order of President Roosevelt.

Race violence—which caused injury to many earlier in the strike—had subsided.

The Philadelphia army public relations section had declined to comment on the report that transportation troops there en route. Asked whether transportation corps regiments were trained to operate trolleys and subway lines, a spokesman replied:

"They are fully trained for any transportation emergency."

The army, with returning workers, kept only ten trains running on the Market street elevated road against a normal of 42—and policemen rode each to guard the operators. No other wheels turned.

Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, the war department's representative in control of the transit system, said yesterday that workers attempting to return were prevented by threats.

NUMBER OF IDLE EXCEEDS 31,000

(By Associated Press)

A strike of truck drivers in Minneapolis spread to Kansas City and Omaha yesterday and brought to more than 31,000 the number of idle workers in the United States and Canada.

The new stoppages were offset by settlements which sent or promised to send about 11,200 employees back to work.

In Minneapolis-St. Paul, 1,500 over-the-road A. P. of L. truck drivers and helpers left their jobs in an outbreak of the long-standing dispute between drivers and truck owner members of the Midwest Operators Association.

The Kansas City strike tied up nine of the large over-the-road lines. The drivers' refusal to take the vans out was described by a union representative as unauthorized. No estimate was immediately available of the number of men involved there or in Omaha, where two lines already were closed and 12 to 15 threatened to be affected by Monday.

Tank construction in the St. Louis Car company plant was halted by a dispute between the management and members of the C. I. O. United Steel Workers over a piecework pay scale in one department. A union spokesman said the walkout of 1,200 employees was unauthorized.

Three hundred Negro choppers, who stopped work at the General Steel Castings Corporation, Granite City, Ill., July 27, voted to return to their jobs Monday. The strike affected 4,300 workers.

In compliance with a war labor board directive, 5,000 strikers at John A. Roebling's Sons and Company, Roebbing and Trenton, N. J., returned to work. Eight hundred distribution workers of Public Service Gas and Electric Company, Newark, N. J., and 11 neighboring cities, voted to resume work, and strikes of 300 persons at Acme Steel and Malleable Iron Works, Buffalo, N. Y., and of 100 at the Reading, Pa. Street Railway Company, also were ended.

Settlements today (Sunday) of the Detroit strike at General Motors Chevrolet gear axle division was predicted by a C. I. O.-United Auto Workers official. The dispute, which involves 7,000 employees, threatened closing of five other plants.

Transportation tie-ups continued to plague Philadelphia with 6,000 out and Montreal, with 4,000 idle, though alertness of the city's police for a possible week-end meeting pointed to a settlement of the latter dispute.

Eastern and captured Rignano, 3 1/2 miles south of Pontassieve, which covers Florence's east flank.

In between, other elements were within a half-mile of the Arno near Sigm, just west of Florence, and the same distance away just east of Florence after they captured Bagno-Arripoli.

It was suggested that the Germans spared the Ponte Vecchio, the only one of Florence's historic bridges not blown up, because it could not handle military traffic. It resembles the old London bridge, with shops on either side of a narrow roadway.

Johnson, Monroe DRUGGIST, EXPIRES

H. B. Johnson, 48, well known Monroe druggist, died last night in a local hospital. Mr. Johnson for several years was in business here with a brother but for the past year had been druggist at Holloway's Pharmacy in the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic building.

Funeral arrangements, being handled by Mulhearn Funeral Home, had not been completed late last night, but services will be held some time Monday with interment following in the Riverside Burial Park.

Mr. Johnson, who resided at 909 Jackson street, was a veteran of the First World War and was a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Roxie Johnson; his mother, Mrs. W. I. Johnson, Yazoo City, Miss.; six brothers, John P. Johnson, Monroe, Sweeney Johnson, Clarksville, Johnson, Tallahassee, Okla., C. H. Johnson, Memphis, and J. C. Johnson and George Johnson, Yazoo City, Miss.; and three sisters, Mrs. L. W. Graves and Mrs. O. H. Kerr, Alexandria, and Mrs. Thelma Hancock, Bentonla, Miss.

15 INJURED WHEN TWO TRAINS CRASH

CORSICANA, Tex., Aug. 5.—(P)—Fifteen persons were injured when the southbound Burlington and Rock Island Zephyr crashed into the rear end of a freight train standing on the main line near the Corsicana limits about 6 p. m. today.

Burlington line officials said the injured were all aboard the Zephyr. Hospital attendants reported most of the patients received head, back and leg injuries.

Railroad authorities said the Zephyr was expected to resume its run to Houston within a few hours.

All the injured were taken to the caboose of the freight was splintered.

BALKAN AIR FORCE WILL ASSIST TITO

BALKAN AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, July 14.—(Delayed)—(P)—A new Balkan air force—whose roster of pilots reads like that of the United Nations—has been formed on Yugoslav soil for the express purpose of providing an air arm for Marshal Tito and other resistance forces.

Although the bulk of the forces are British and American, there are Italian, Polish and Greek flyers, and Yugoslav airmen will be flying back to their homeland to take up the struggle.

Air Vice-Marshal William Elliott, who once commanded the air forces at the British fortress of Gibraltar, has been put in command of this air force which boasts about 20 types of planes, from big Liberators to troop carriers, to rocket-firing planes.

Most of these pilots already have been fighting over the Balkans for months, and the Italians, under the Italian air force, have been patrolling the Adriatic almost since the day of the armistice.

The principal bases remain Italy, but landing strips have been opened in Partisan-held territory of Yugoslavia, and there is a good airport on the Dalmatian coast.

and several more localities seized. The villages were not defended.

East of this area, in the triangle formed by the Vistula and San rivers, Marshal Konev's forces captured 72 localities of the 243 taken on all fronts during the day. They cleaned out the area east of Sandomierz and southward along the east bank of the Vistula as far as Rozniaty, 21 miles below the confluence of the two rivers. Another nine-mile strip from Rozniaty down to Crynka, just a few miles from Mielec, also was taken. Rozniaty is six miles east of Polaniec, one of the west bank towns taken in the break-through Thursday and Friday toward Krakow.

Konev's troops now were pushing down both banks of the Vistula toward Krakow. Poland's fifth largest city and last big German stronghold short of industrialized German Silesia.

Inside besieged Warsaw Polish patriots lost the rail stations in the heart of the city, a message from the underground said. The Poles were suffering from ammunition and arms shortages.

Fifty miles east of Warsaw, Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian troops captured 70 more towns and villages northwest and north of Siedlce, but the communists did not mention the progress of the fighting just east of Warsaw. But Berlin told of fierce battles northeast of the Polish capital on the east bank of the Vistula, and said Soviet attempts to pierce Nazi lines east of the city had failed.

Among the towns captured in the area above Siedlce were: Proszew, 12 miles northeast; Mokoboda, three miles east of Proszew; Swiniary, three miles northeast of Mokoboda; Kowiesy, 11 miles north of Siedlce; Kozuch, 13 miles northeast; and Kamienek, 31 miles northeast on the Bug river.

This action was in the area between Siedlce and the Bialystok-Warsaw railway, and apparently Rokossovsky's men intend to clean out this area on their flank before turning their full weight against Warsaw.

The German high command communique told of fighting in the Sadowen-Schaken district, the old name for the part of East Prussia between the Inster and Angerapp rivers, and a Transocean News Agency report in the afternoon said that Third White Russian army vanguards had broken through "on the East Prussian border" near Virbalis on the main Kaunas-Konigsberg highway. Virbalis is three miles east of the border.

Marshal Pavel Rotmistrov, who was only a colonel when the German-Russian war began in 1941, threw hundreds of tanks against the Germans.

"Let's beat the Germans on their territory as we did on ours, and let's take our guard banner to Berlin," one of Rotmistrov's generals told his armored crews.

production. The timing is intended to coincide with the new government policy, effective on that date, of permitting limited manufacture of civilian goods in plants where work will not interfere with the war effort.

Estimated increases in some consumer goods costs, assembled from W.P. OPA and trade sources, run as follows:

Automobiles, up to 20 to 30 per cent, but with some estimates ranging as low as 15 and as high as 40 per cent.

Radio sets, up 15 to 25 per cent.

Washing machines and ironers, up 25 to 35 per cent.

Vacuum cleaners, up about 25 per cent.

Electric and gas refrigerators, up 25 to 35 per cent.

One major unpredictable factor is the production rate when reconstruction starts. If production is permitted only at a low level, the cost per article will soar. If something like mass production is possible, costs will be lower.

AIR RAIDS

Etapes on the Germans' most important supply line from the north to the front, running from Belgium into Amiens. The bridge was damaged in yesterday's raids.

The American heavy bombers poured new lethal cargoes on war industries in Germany, hitting the oil refinery at Dollbergen, an oil storage plant at Nienburg, an aircraft parts factory and freight yard at Fallersleben, an armament works at Magdeburg, and other targets at Brunswick and Magdeburg as well as airfields at Hannover, Langerhagen and Halberstadt.

In all cases the bombing was done visually in ideal weather.

Nearly 750 Eighth air force fighters guarded the heavyweights on their trip to Germany and strafed moving and stationary targets.

The German radio said fierce air combats developed and claimed several Allied planes were shot down.

21 KILLED WHEN TWO PLANES CRASH

LAUREL, Neb., Aug. 5.—(P)—Twenty-one army airmen perished in the crash of two Flying Fortresses and an AT-26 fighter near Laurel today, bringing to 49 the number of army fliers to die in accidents in Nebraska this week.

The three planes fell shortly before noon today while army officials still probed the wreckage of a C-47 transport which crashed with 28 men aboard near Naper near the Nebraska-South Dakota line Thursday night.

The Rev. Thomas Malloy, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in Sioux City, Ia., who visited the scene of today's crash, said 19 men in each of the four-engined bombers and one in the fighter lost their lives.

almost subordinated the third great movement produced by the breakthrough from Normandy, the drive to seal off the whole Breton peninsula.

One armored force bearing down on the U-boat base of St. Nazaire was now much less than 15 miles away after sweeping several miles south of St. Gildas Des Bois.

A companion column pushing on the nearby port of Nantes on the Loire river was believed to be at least as close after hammering through Chateaubriant, 30 miles south of Rennes.

The Vichy radio early in the day had this force only 18 miles from Nantes.

German accounts said these columns had pushed on from 15 to 20 miles south of Derval and Chateaubriant, which would place them 15 to 20 miles from St. Nazaire and Nantes.

As vanguards drove into Brest past scattered resistance, British heavy bombers in perfect weather swept over and rained six-ton factory bust-ers on Brest's U-boat pens.

This hammer blow was designed to block the submarines in their "bomb-proof" docks and prevent them from fleeing, possibly with any high-ranking officers of the shattered Brittany garrison.

A German account, attributed to Field Marshal Gen. Guenther von Kluge, commander in France, asserted the Americans had thrown a new "third army" into the spreading battles.

progressing. Yet international circles here generally believe it will follow this pattern:

One: The complete military occupation of a Germany divided into spheres of influence with Russia controlling the east, Britain the area north of Mainz, and the Americans the south. Berlin may be chosen for the central coordination spot.

Two: Total disarmament, with distribution of the remaining Nazi military and naval equipment, partly on the basis of loss by the victims of aggression and partly to rearm countries on the German borders.

PAPACY, VATICAN CITY DESCRIBED

V. Father Henry Gives Talk On Religious Theme To K. Of C.

The guest speaker at the meeting of the Knights of Columbus on Thursday night was Rev. Father Henry Schaub, O. F. M., pastor of St. Michael's Church in West Monroe. He spoke on the theme: "The Papacy and Vatican City."

The speaker stated that the reason for the temporal or earthly possession of the Pope of Vatican City is not for land possession as the entire Vatican City covers an area of only 106 acres, but that by the possession of this area of ground in which the Pope is sole ruler, subject to no temporal or earthly ruler, it emphasizes his eminent position as the vicar of Christ on earth, the successor of the popes who have preceded him since the time of St. Peter subject only to Almighty God.

History, he said, both present and past, bears out the fact that the popes of Vatican City have always maintained strict neutrality with other powers in times of war. Although of ancient vintage, the buildings of Vatican City are all of the finest architectural design and are known the world over for their art treasures. The broadcasting station of Vatican City is one of the most modern stations today.

The population of Vatican City, he said, is about 95 per cent male and the five per cent is composed of female secretaries and others engaged in clerical services. The famed Swiss Guard, all composed of the highest type of Swiss manhood, unmarried, number approximately 100. They serve as honor guards at all occasions and at the present time also guard the boundaries of the Holy See against any intruders who may appear.

The body of St. Peter is entombed, Father Henry said, below the basilica of St. Peter's. Some 300 years ago by accident, the tomb was opened and the pope and cardinals present at the time, identified articles that were known to have been buried with the body of the first pope.

He continued by outlining the procedure used in the election of a new pope. Incidentally he said that he had the pleasure of meeting the present pope when on a tour of the United States and before he became pope. At that time he was Cardinal Pacelli.

The members were well pleased with the address which was of an unusual and highly instructive nature.

LOCAL PARISH CLAIM IS URGED

Legion Post Seeks New Veterans' Hospital For Monroe

The L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, of the American Legion, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution urging that the government select Ouachita parish as the site for a new veterans' hospital that it is proposed to erect somewhere in Louisiana.

The resolution states as follows: Whereas there was recently enacted by the Congress of the United States a bill commonly referred to as the GI bill of rights and one of the provisions of the act provides for the expansion and construction of new veterans administration hospitals and facilities to be erected in various parts of the United States, and

Whereas news dispatches have indicated that one of the new hospitals will be erected in the northern portion of Louisiana, and

Whereas Monroe, located in Ouachita parish, in the northeastern part of the state would make an ideal location for the site of one of the proposed new hospitals due to its accessibility, being served by a major trunk line railroad from the east and west and one from the north and south, also being located on major highways, U. S. Highway No. 80 east and west and U. S. Highway No. 165 north and south and with air service by Delta Air Lines, and

Whereas from the point of healthfulness, climate, natural beauty of the country and natural resources, together with favorable freight rates due to being located on a navigable river all combined with its accessibility would point to this immediate vicinity as being the most logical place for the site of a new hospital facility.

Therefore be it resolved by L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 the American Legion in regular session that we favor the selection of a site in this immediate vicinity for the erection of a new veterans administration hospital and that we direct our efforts to obtaining the selection of a site in Ouachita parish, and

Be it further resolved that we join with other patriotic and civic organizations in working to this end, and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the United States veterans administration requesting that this vicinity be given due consideration in the selection of a site for a new hospital, that a copy be furnished Congressman Charles E. McKenzie acquainting him with our wishes and soliciting his support in our undertaking and that a copy be furnished the press.

Unanimously adopted at a regular meeting of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 held on July 17, 1944.

LT. DENVER BAXTER IS AWARDED CROSS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Lt. Denver F. Baxter, 25, of Nashville, Tenn., naval pilot who landed in Truk harbor under Japanese fire to rescue a fellow flyer who had been shot down, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross here today by Commander Frederick M. Reeder, commanding officer of the naval air station.

His citation, by Admiral Chester Nimitz, read in part:

"During a carrier task force strike against the Japanese-held Truk Atoll as the pilot of an OS2U-3, he effected the rescue from certain capture or death of a carrier fighter pilot who had been shot down. With complete disregard for Japanese surface vessels in the vicinity, he flew low over Truk lagoon until he located the downed pilot swimming. . . . With little regard for his own safety and despite the hazardous seaplane operating conditions, he skillfully landed his plane, picked up the pilot and made a take-off with his overloaded plane. . . ."

Lieutenant Baxter's wife and one-year-old daughter, Ann, were here for the decoration ceremonies. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Baxter, reside at Crestview, Tenn.

WOMEN 20 to 36

SERVE WHERE AMERICA NEEDS YOU MOST

RIGHT NOW, can you honestly say, "I'm doing all I can to help my country win this war"? You can say it—say it proudly—when you wear the Navy blue of the WAVES.

Of course, there are important jobs to be done at home. But ask yourself: "Can others do them—mothers with children—older women?" Then—if you are between 20 and 36—remember that you, and you alone, have the opportunity to serve where you can do the most for Victory—as a full-fledged member of the Navy.

In radio, communications, storekeeping, hospital corps, aviation ground work and scores of other jobs, WAVES are doing vital Navy work, doing it as well as men. They hold their posts as Americans who proudly serve their country in Navy Blue. The Navy ratings they wear are the same ratings men of the Navy wear. They get the same pay. They represent the same skill—the ability to do a job well, according to Navy standards.

Train in New York City

You don't need special experience to join the WAVES. Navy training takes care of that. First, six weeks at recruit school in New York City, learning Navy traditions, getting into the swing of real Navy life. Then assignment to a duty station or further training to equip you for a specialized job.

You're Needed Now!

It's your war. It's your country—fighting for your freedom. What are you willing to do to help win this fight? Is there any job you can do which is more important than the job waiting for you right now in the WAVES? Is there any service you can perform in which you will take greater pride as a patriotic American? You know in your heart there's just one answer. So why not make your decision now? Join the WAVES. It will be the proudest experience of your life.

Wedding Of Prominence Takes Place At First Baptist Church In Monroe

Large Concourse Of Friends At Ceremony

Marriage Of Miss Joyce Rivers McKoin And Lt. J. B. Swanson Jr., Is Of Interest

All the time-honored traditions were observed by Miss Joyce Rivers McKoin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. McKoin, when she walked down the candlelit altar at the First Baptist Church, Friday night, August 4, to become the bride of Lt. Jacob Barton Swanson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Swanson of Baytown, Tex.

Although war-time simplicity was characterized in every detail of this wedding, claiming the interest of friends here and elsewhere, none of the dignity and impressiveness of service was lacking. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. T. Hastings at five-thirty o'clock in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives.

It was cool and shadowy in the church where white blossoms, myriads of them, were grouped with considerable artistry in the background. Cathedral tapers, in tall white candelabra, gleamed among the flowers and along the chancel rail. White wrought iron standards overflowing with white phlox and white gladioli formed a flowery enclosure for the wedding party.

While the candles were being lighted and the guests escorted to their seats by the ushers, Mr. T. H. Woods and Mr. Searcy S. Cummins, the organist, Miss Hermoine Driskell, rendered a medley of pre-nuptial numbers and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Eric McKoin Barham of Mer Rouge who sang "Because" and "I Love Thee."

The bride's three sisters, Mrs. T. H. Woods, Mrs. J. W. Cummins and Miss Dean McKoin served as matrons of honor and maid of honor and Miss Martha Jane Moore, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid. They all wore diaphanous gowns of pink and blue, alternating, of mousseline de sole. The basques were tight fitting and the skirts were long and extremely full. They wore ostrich plumes in their hair and carried arm bouquets of pink and blue asters tied with lengths of pink and blue satin ribbons.

The twin sons of Maj. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins, Jay and Joe Cummins, wearing white linens, served as ring bearers.

The bridegroom was attended by his father, Mr. J. B. Swanson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a stately gown of traditional ivory satin. It was fashioned with tight fitting basque with deep yoke of imported lace and was worn by her sister, Mrs. T. H. Woods on her wedding day. The full skirt ended in a sweeping train over which fell the veil of illusion caught to the hair with a coronet. For something old she carried her grandmother's rose point lace handkerchief carried by generations of brides in the McKoin family. She carried an exquisite arm bouquet of white orchids and valley lilies. The bridegroom's gift was a magnificent pearl brooch.

The reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Woods on College avenue was widely attended. The reception suite was adorned with pink and white gladioli placed at vantage points and banked with artistry for a background for members of the wedding party and Dr. and Mrs. McKoin and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Swanson, who assisted in receiving. Mrs. McKoin wore a rose colored chiffon model with orchid corsage and Mrs. Swanson wore a pink lace model with corsage of orchids.

The wedding cake, a luscious confection embossed with bride's roses and valley lilies adorned the lace covered bride's table in the dining room and was cut by the bride and bridegroom before they left on their honeymoon. Plaques of white tube roses graced the four corners of the table and at either end white tapers burned in handsome silver candelabra.

Ices and individual wedding cakes were served by Miss Marilyn Marshall, Miss Cornelia Herron, Miss Jean Tabb, Miss Mildred Keller and Mrs. Jack Brizius. They all wore summery gowns in the pastel colors with flowers in their hair.

The bride traveled in a smart tailleur of navy blue linen with navy blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and Northeast Junior College where she was a member of the Purple Jackets. She was graduated from the Louisiana State University and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. She majored in education and was a member last year of the Lake Charles Central Grammar School faculty.

Lieutenant Swanson is also a graduate of the Neville High School and attended Louisiana State University where he studied engineering and was a member of the Society of American Military Engineers and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences. He is now with the armed forces and received his basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He received his commission at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. B. E. Barham of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd

Hamilton-Barnes Nuptials Celebrated

A wedding of interest to the residents of this section of Louisiana is that of Miss Mary Holt Barnes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Hason Barnes of Ruston, and Pvt. Ladelle Andrews Hamilton, United States army, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton of Downsville.

The marriage took place in Childress, Tex., on July 18, and was the culmination of a romance which had its beginning while the young couple were students at the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute from which they were graduated.

The marriage ceremony was held at 8 o'clock in the evening in the home of Maj. and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close personal friends, with Rev. Oron Culbertson, pastor of the Childress Methodist Church, officiating. The service was read before an improvised altar with a background of ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father Dr. J. Hason Barnes and her only attendant was her sister Mrs. Jasper Alton Westbrook as matron of honor. The groom was attended by Major Westbrook as best man. The bride wore an imported model of aqua linen with white accessories. Her hat was a Louis Miller original of white straw with a waist length veil of black tulle trimmed in lover's bow knots of aqua. She carried a tailored bouquet of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the reception rooms. In the dining room the bride's table was covered with an imported linen cloth and florally adorned with white blossoms. At one end was the three-tiered wedding cake and at the other was a crystal bowl of punch which was served to the guests with the wedding cake cut by the bride and groom. Harriet Schumpert Barnes, sister of the bride, and Agnes Chamblees and Audrey Price, assisted in the court- esies.

The bride and groom left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Coffeyville, Kan., where he is stationed pending his transfer for overseas duty, at which time Mrs. Hamilton will return to Ruston and resume her position as teacher of physical education in the Ruston High School.

Members Of Pioneer Families Are United

Marriage Of Miss Annie Rose Wyly And Sergeant Gilfoil Is Of Interest

A wedding of prominence and of particular interest to residents in this section of the state due to the fact that the contracting parties are descendants of pioneer families who contributed to the social and civic life of East Carroll parish, took place at the Lake Providence First Methodist Church, August 1, when Miss Annie Rose Wyly, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Wyly and the late Mr. Wyly became the bride of Sgt. Henry Gilfoil, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilfoil Jr.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herman Schwartz, presiding at the altar, assisted by the Rev. T. Woodward of Sicily Island. The bride, in the dress uniform of a United States marine, had as her best man his brother, S. Sgt. Plucher Gilfoil, Camp McCain, Miss. The ushers, Leon Minsky, A. S. Herzog, C. W. Lyon and J. G. Wyly Jr., all wore tropical linens and white oxfords.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Andrew Jackson Wyly Jr., wore the traditional white satin wedding gown fashioned with a tight fitting bodice, sweetheart neckline, long tight fitting sleeves and a full skirt sweeping the ground and ending in a long court train. Her veil of illusion, caught to the hair with cap of chiffon, fell beyond the skirt hemline. She carried an arm bouquet of white orchids, white gladioli and stephanotis. It was in sections, part of which was worn as a corsage with the traveling ensemble.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The reception suite was beautifully decorated with flowers with candles burning in their midst. Ices and cakes were served in the dining room where the bride's table, lace covered was centered with the

Women In War Work

American women have long been noted for their versatility and ability to combine numerous activities without neglecting that most important place, home. The ladies of the Twin Cities are no exception to this rule and despite the scarcity of domestic help, worry over sons or husbands in the armed services, still find it possible to devote much time to the USO and the happiness and welfare of the servicemen and women who are in Monroe.

Such a group of ladies are those who serve at the Snack Bar. They are faithful in their volunteer duties and beyond any doubt the success of that popular spot is due to their friendliness and pleasant manner. During the absence of Mrs. Opal White, Mrs. Nell Bennett has served as chairman of the canteen.

Others who have contributed generously of their time are: Mrs. A. L. Harrington, Jo Ann McDuffie, Martha Powell, Mrs. Jean Rich, Mrs. Paul J. Wright, Mrs. J. F. Prendergast, Mrs. W. J. Veazy, Virginia Gray, Marlan Moore, Elbertine Moore, Thais Norris, Tommie Guffin, Hedy Stamper, Kate Stroud, Mrs. E. H. Williamson, Mrs. Arnaud D. Lopez, Mrs. James D. Sparks, Velma Daigle, Mrs. W. M. Allen, Miss Doris Touchstone, Mrs. C. C. Boardman, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Frances Langford, Leta Mae Benson, Mrs. A. N. Robinson, Mrs. John Prachter, Miss Helen Tillman, Mrs. Flo Manis, Mrs. L. B. McCarthy, Betty Keith, Mrs. John Reitzel, Mrs. J. R. Pumphrey, Elizabeth Mahr, Mrs. I. Liebreich, Mrs. William Mintz, Mrs. Eugenia C. Oliver, Mrs. Oskar Kern, Mrs. A. V. Miller, Mrs. J. M. Carter, Mrs. D. Curtis Seaman, Mrs. L. Hulien, Dot Corry, Sally Ann Ware, Mrs. Harry Davis, Jean Thomas, Mrs. Douglas Moore, Miss Lucy Kingsbury, Mrs. G. F. Pablo, Miss Jeanne Pablo, Miss Anna Bedwell, Mrs. Ross Coats, Mrs. Louis Gannaway, Miss Lois Harris, Miss Esther Tarver, Miss Jackie Bingham, Mrs. C. W. Mahr, Mrs. Dora Anish, Eloise Bann, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Maude Brownlee, Myrtle Johnson, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. R. O. Ware, Miss Betty Davis, Jean Thomas.

The junior hostesses, too, deserve a rising vote of thanks. They planned and carried out the Hawaiian Night Dance, one of the most successful affairs of the summer season. These girls add much of the sparkle and gaiety to the song fests on the Noe's Ark. Mr. Noe allows USO to use his boat every Wednesday evening and this cruise has proved to be the most popular of all program activities.

WINGS visit the hospital at Selman Field, serve at the Snack Bar and Information Desk and respond to telephone calls when convicts suddenly appear. They're a busy group of girls—most of them work all day and devote much of their free time to USO.

No thanks can be too profuse for the chaperones. They accompany the WINGS to the Service Club dances and attend the activities of the club. Their charm and graciousness set an example for the junior hostesses. These ladies who find many ways to help make the servicemen and women feel at home are: Mrs. Mike Nastasi, Mrs. Love, Mrs. Ganford, Mrs. Zurga, Mrs. Rainwater, Mrs. W. R. Sims, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Hausher, Miss Philomene Woodwin, Mrs. Dell Robinson, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Ruby Sager, Mrs. Cornett, Mrs. Darden, Mrs. Braun, Mrs. Louise Phillips, Mrs. Harry Stern, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Crevitt, Mrs. Mary Castles, Mrs. Lela Cullon, Mrs. Prion, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Mayo.

"Have you any air mail stamps?" "What bus goes to the swimming pool?" "Can you find me a three-room apartment?" "Will you wrap this package for me?" "Where's the Cadet Club?" "Who will sew on these buttons for me?" "When is the next bus to Alex?" "Where is Tennessee street?" . . . Yes, you're right—that's the sort of questions the information clerks hear. Sometimes it seems one person could never answer so many questions. But the information clerks are well informed and they cheerfully and graciously do all they can to help the servicemen find a room, the church of his choice or check his parcels. Theirs is one of the most important tasks in the USO for they create the first impression of the club. Great pride is taken in the corps of information clerks. Sincere appreciation is manifested in the hours of untiring and devoted service these ladies give.

This group includes Mrs. Ben Stern and Mrs. Nell Bennett, chairman, Mrs. Rita Rothfarb, Mrs. R. H. Price, Mrs. C. M. Strauss, Miss Ola Mae Pennington, Mrs. William Mintz, Mrs. F. S. Pruitt, Mrs. Oskar Kern, Mrs. Percy Sandman, Mrs. Tommy Cowan, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. T. H. Inskeep, Mrs. Isaac Lemle, Mrs. A. M. Marx, Mrs. Fred Grant, Mrs. Mary Castles, Mrs. J. B. Young, Mrs. Arthur Wedemeyer, Miss Juanita Porter, Mrs. W. C. Stephenson, Rose Dana, Sybil Daugherty, Bernice McCoy, Bernice Wright, Mary Mulhern, Fanni Willbanks, Virginia Scheen, Deas Robinson, Nilda Caldwell, Bernice Hale, Melba Glass, Eleona Brinsmade, Annie Ruth Page, Elizabeth Willett, Betty Thomas, Helen Tillman, Joan McDuffy, Jewel Kenny, Margaret Sutton, Julia Liebreich, Isabel Mansur, Salema Mansur, Thais Norris, Alice Terry, Helen Hunt, Mrs. Daniel Hunt, Elizabeth Cozart, Elizabeth Mahr, Clovis Creighton, Jackie Benjamin, Jo Low, Vera Petty, Fanny Munholland, Eva Reed, Alice Bell Kirby, Jackie Voohries, Betty Jo Ford.

Wednesdays and Saturdays will find Mrs. J. J. Hunt and Mrs. Ware, Miss Mable Reeves busy sewing. Perhaps one of the servicemen has been promoted and these ladies change his chevrons accordingly—or perhaps his shirt needs altering—as sure as it's Wednesday or Saturday, just that sure it is that you will find these ladies at their important and helpful task. We at USO are deeply grateful for their unselfish devotion and wish to express deep appreciation on behalf of the many servicemen they have cheered up with their splendid sewing service.

To Miss Eleona Brinsmade and Mrs. Rust, is extended "thank you" for making the square dance class the time of fun and entertainment that it has proved to be. "Ooh! This one is good!" "Who brought these cookies?" "Look, they're homemade!" That's just a sample of the many enthusiastic remarks heard around the USO cookie jar. Various organizations of the cities are doing a splendid job of keeping it filled. A homemade cookie is the most tangible evidence imaginable to create a hospitable atmosphere. To the ladies of the Twin Cities who spend some of their precious time baking these delicious confections, sincere thanks is extended. Following is the list of organizations who fill the cookie jar: Sunday, Barkdull Faulk P-T-A. and Missouri Pacific Women's Club, Monday, Jewish Sisterhood; Tuesday, First Baptist Church, WMU and Presbyterian Church; Wednesday, Sherrouse School; Thursday, NCCS; Friday, First Methodist WMS and Christian Science Church; Saturday, Louise McGuire Chapter Eastern Star and Auxiliary Spanish War Veterans.

All who attended the volunteer party noticed the profusion of beautiful flowers and the artistic arrangements. These were the work of The Welcome Garden Club. This club's contribution is one of inestimable value.

Children's Theater Project Completed

Such good news for today for the children of the Twin Cities. The Clare Tree Major Children's Theater will again present such well known characters as "Cinderella" and others of story book fame, according to word received from members of the Parker Memorial Sunday school class who decided to again serve as sponsors.

A meeting of the class last week found all members eager to assume the responsibility of bringing this company of players to Monroe again this season.

Last year's venture proved such an outstanding success members of the class volunteered their services again this year and will immediately set the wheels in motion for the selling of season tickets. Mrs. W. E. Sandel consented to take over the task of directing the project with Mrs. W. B. Inabnet and Mrs. J. E. Kersh as co-chairmen. These three women have made an outstanding success of the fine type of entertainment offered by Clare Tree Major for the children of Monroe in the past, and with the help and cooperation of their associates will give another year's program of interest to young and old who enjoy children's plays.

Mrs. G. R. Younse, president of the class, called for reports of the month's work. Mrs. J. F. Heard, treasurer, gave an excellent financial report, which was a good showing of the numerous activities in which the class is engaged, gifts for the student center at L. S. U., for the cubbing program of the church, for expenses of young people at religious camps, for expenses of a student at the Houma Mission School, for clothing for the Methodist orphanage, adopted, Mrs. T. L. McMurphy secretary reported the success of her group captains in keeping up the class attendance during the month of July, usually an off-month in Sunday school attendance. She stated that the average of 43 per Sunday was the best mid-summer attendance the class had any record of, and gave credit to the plan of designating July as "Home-Coming" month as being one reason for improved summer attendance. Mrs. Younse, president, thanked Miss Elizabeth Langford for her assistance in making the Sunday morning programs for the individual members of the class a success and for the very interesting bulletin for July.

Mrs. Younse appointed as nominating committee for class officers to report at the next business meeting. Mrs. J. T. Eubank, Mrs. Jno. T. Harper, Mrs. W. E. Sandel.

The hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Carl Atkinson, Miss Elizabeth Langford, Mrs. A. C. Robbins, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Frank Jones, and Mrs. Geo. Temple, took charge of the evening's program featuring vocal numbers of Mrs. A. M. Serex and dramatic readings by Mrs. B. B. Martin.

iced watermelon was served by the hostesses.

Altrusa Members

Carry On Here

Unmindful of the summer heat members of the local branch of Altrusa have carried on faithfully, meeting with regularity and mapping out their programs outlined by the national society.

Members of Altrusa have put their four-fold program—international relations, non-partisan, public affairs, vocational information and education—on a wartime basis.

Members of the local Altrusa Club feel that the preparation for the reconstruction period. The work of that committee nationally, internationally and in each club, is to emphasize the necessity for studying other countries, particularly Pan-America, to further international understanding.

The nonpartisan public affairs group is now on the subject of inflation. It is concerned with taxes and inflation; price ceilings and inflation, and rent freezing as related to inflation.

Altrusa, whose name denotes usefulness, has an eight point program for vocational information and important topic for most women now. Briefly, clubs are cooperating in community surveys of guidance activities; promoting guidance council; disseminating vocational information; cooperating in providing training facilities; encouraging job try-outs; providing scholarship loan funds; conducting classes for the vocational adjustment of the mature woman. The eight point is a war program promoting training for industrial and commercial skills and home economics and an occupation listing service among others.

Twilight Tea Is A Charming Event

Tea In The C. C. Colvert Home Attracts One Hundred Or More Guests At Twilight

Twilight is a lovely time of day at the C. C. Colvert home facing the bayou on the Northeast Junior College campus. That is why Mrs. Colvert and Mrs. Walter Rhodes selected this particular time for their tea honoring last week's bride, Miss Joyce McKoin.

A variety of flowers, fragrant and colorful were placed with exceeding artistry throughout the reception suite, sun parlor and dining room. Candles gleaming in their midst were unusually effective.

The presence of several beautifully gowned guests who assisted in receiving, added to the colorful picture. They all wore summery gowns in the lovely pastel shades with flowers of harmonizing colors in their hair. Mrs. Colvert wore a pink chiffon model and Mrs. Rhodes wore a black lace and chiffon model. Miss McKoin wore one of her lovely troupeau models of aquamarine mousseline de sole with corsage of pink roses presented to her by her hostesses.

Mrs. B. M. McKoin, mother of the guest of honor, wore a pale pink dimity model. Mrs. E. R. McBride was wearing azure blue chiffon. Miss Marguerite Colvert wore pastel blue chiffon. Mrs. Jack Brizius wore a white taffeta model and Miss Floye Rhodes wore a white lace model. Mrs. Frank Spivey was wearing aqua blue lace. Mrs. T. H. Woods wore a daffodil yellow net model and Mrs. J. W. Cummins wore a flowered chiffon model.

The tea table in the dining room, overlaid with handsome lace banquet cloth was developed exclusively in crystal and silver. Beautiful miniature white chrysanthemums and tube roses overflowed from a mammoth silver bowl adorning the center of the table. At either end tapered burned in silver candelabra and at the four corners were placed silver salvers holding a variety of confections.

Mint frappe and mint sherbet was served in tall glasses to the hundred or more guests who called during the twilight hours. Throughout the receiving hours music from the classics was rendered by Miss Hermione Driskell, talented young Monroe musician.

Dinner Party Given

RETURN HOME FROM CAMP IN THE OZARK MOUNTAINS

Five members of the younger set, brown as berries and in wonderful physical condition after a carefree life at Camp Wyzelle in the Ozark mountains, arrived home last week, reporting a wonderful vacation. Reading from left to right they are: Anna Mary Johnson, Maurine Linquest, Carolyn Peters, Beverly Hatchell, Martha Hatchell, Ann Crandall, Carolyn Jo Goodwin, Ann Menefee and Ann Atkinson.

Purely Personal

Whatever the war-time restrictions may be, no emergency has ever taxed the capacity of the magic carpets of memory and imagination. For all time to come Mrs. Stanley Reid will have precious memories of her recent travels in Mexico. Nothing in years to come can deprive her of those two months spent in Mexico City and the surrounding points of interest. Each had its "thrills" commencing when she stepped from the train in Antonio where she was met by friends and escorted to the Mexican consul where she was cordially received and then given a letter of introduction to the American consul in Mexico City. Influential friends made it possible for many doors to open to her which remain closed to the casual visitors. Due to the courtesies extended, Mrs. Reid gained an intimate knowledge of life and customs in that country of romantic history and fabulous scenic beauty.

The Reforma hotel, where Mrs. Reid had accommodations is noted far and wide for its excellence of cuisine and the unique manner of entertaining guests.

At the Ruiz Galindo Hotel, at Forten de las Flores, where Mrs. Reid spent two wonderful days and nights the unique custom of strewing fresh gardenias in the swimming pool every morning enraptured the guests. Swimming among the blossoms and breathing the fragrance that rises like incense on the fresh morning air, is a never-to-be-forgotten experience. From her bedroom balcony overlooking the pool Mrs. Reid glimpsed a luxuriant tropical patio, marble fountain and orchids growing luxuriantly in enormous beds.

Mrs. Reid wore a lei of orchids (forty of them) when she was entertained at dinner at the Reforma Hotel by Miss Ruth Powers of Oklahoma, a graduate of the Louisiana State University who was "thrilled to meet someone from Louisiana." Guests of honor at this dinner were Kay Kyser of moving picture and radio fame and Frank McCreedy, owner of the Music Box Night Club in San Francisco and William Turner known to radio world as "Duffy" of Duffy's Tavern.

The highlights of the visit in Mexico City was the day spent at Xochimilco, the famous floating gardens. The first glimpse of Xochimilco, according to Mrs. Reid, is a panoramic picture of dozens of gondolas with canopied roofs woven solid with beautiful, many-colored flowers. Each boat has a name fashioned in flowers. Indian boatmen propel the canoes with long poles, singing as they go. The scene is like Venice as the network of canals leads away to the gardens.

The traditional drive through Chapultepec Park where every Sunday the famed charros ride was another never-to-be-forgotten experience. The charros are wealthy horsemen who dress in elaborate costumes of brilliant colors with spangles, silver buttons and wide-brimmed sombreros.

Mrs. Reid says that the only thing that takes place on time in Mexico City is the bull fight—and you can set your watch by that. There was a huge crowd in the Gran Plaza de Toros the day she attended the bull fight. The seating capacity is 20,000. To the loud accompaniment of bands the matadors appeared clad in satin suits as typical as a story book. Following closely came their banderilleros who assist in the tactics of engaging the bulls; then came the picadors mounted upon horses. Mrs. Reid said she suddenly found herself standing, and like all the others waving her arms and shouting "Ole!" and that's just as important as "hold that line" at a football game.

Mrs. Reid describes Mexico City as a city of gracious friendly people, with always a song on their lips and laughter in their eyes. The church bells ring out every fifteen minutes—and there are dozens and dozens of churches with gold crosses pointing upward to the sky. There is always a fiesta taking place as it doesn't take much of an excuse among these people with their love of flowers, music and dancing, their gayness of spirit and the feeling for romance.

Miss Thomas Is Bride Of Lt. Paul R. Gale

Impressive Ceremony At Selman Field Attended By Large Gathering Of Friends

The sincere interest of friends is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Betty Louise Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thomas and Lt. Paul Robert Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel H. Gale of Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., July 29 at North Chapel, Selman Field, at 6 o'clock in the evening with the chaplain officiating in the presence of members of the family, intimate friends and fellow officers.

A profusion of glossy magnolia leaves, mimosa and southern smilax created a cool, fresh looking background for the placement of white asters and white gladioli in tall white urns. English ivy and southern smilax entwined the chancel rail where candles gleamed at regular intervals.

A pre-nuptial concert was rendered while the candles were being lighted and the guests were being seated.

The maid of honor, Miss Jane Davis, wore a pink lace bodice with long full skirt of pink tulle. She wore pink ostrich tips and pink roses in her hair and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink asters.

The bridesmaids were Miss Annette Masling and Miss Marion Blythe. Miss Masling wore a pink mousseline de soie model with matching headpiece and carried a nosegay of pastel colored asters. Miss Blythe wore a pastel blue taffeta model with a headpiece of blue tulle and carried pastel colored asters.

The bridegroom's attendants were Lt. Winston Moore and Lt. William Spangler. A guard of honor formed of ten fellow officers created a note of distinction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white taffeta, princess style with square cut neckline edged with lace. The skirt was long and full ending in a long train. The veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a Colonial bouquet of orchids, tube roses and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Thomas home where Mr. and Mrs. Thomas extended courtesies. Mrs. Thomas wore a black chiffon model with corsage of gardenias.

The brides' table in the dining room was adorned with a three-tiered wedding cake encircled with gardenias and white asters. Candles in silver candleabra gleamed at the four corners. A variety of confections were served during the receiving hours.

Following a honeymoon in New York where they visited Lieutenant Gale's parents, who were unable to attend the wedding, they will be at home at 706 North Third street, West Monroe. Lieutenant Gale has just returned from overseas duty where he completed 37 missions and 290 combat hours. He received the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters and the campaign stars for serving in Sicily and Italy. He also received the president's citation.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita

Parish High School and Northeast Junior College and attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. She is a member of Delta Kappa sorority.

Miss Theo Keely of Montreal, Canada, is the attractive house guest of Lt. and Mrs. Fred Heinlen on D'Arbonne avenue.

Women Will Assist In Post-War Survey

Federated Club Women Of Twin Cities Offer Services For Consumer Survey

The women of the Twin Cities will have a definite part in meeting the post-war problems of our community, it was announced today by Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs.

Seventy prominent club women will make the consumer survey for the Chamber of Commerce next week, she stated. These women will make a survey of 500 white homes in Monroe and West Monroe to determine the backlog of consumers' demand which will be purchased in the first two post-war years. Refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, food mixers, automobiles, new homes, and home renovation will be determined as a result of this survey. This consumer survey is one of five being conducted through the Chamber of Commerce this year. The first, an employers' survey, has just been completed, in which 182 local

VISITING IN THE WEST

Mrs. W. W. Furlow is enjoying a visit in Fresno, Calif., with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Thompson whom she has not seen in 31 years. En route to California she spent a week in Midland, Texas, with her daughter, Mrs. George A. Steinert and Sergeant Steinert. Mrs. Steinert will be remembered as Miss Florene Furlow.

Personals

On the many services performed by the USO junior hostesses, none is more important than visiting the Selman Field hospital. Last Tuesday evening a group of these patriotic young ladies attended a very special party. Miss Aline Darden and Miss Gladys Cornett were responsible for the program. Miss Betty Jane Petit, Miss Elsie Grimsley, Mrs. Walter Beale, accompanist of the Clarice and Golda Roan School of Dancing, Miss Darden, Miss Cornett and L. C. Givens appeared in a variety show. The program proved to be exceptionally interesting, colorful and entertaining.

On Wednesday, August 9, all WINGS are again invited to a party at Selman Field. Transportation will be furnished and the convoy will leave the USO at 6:15. Reservations may be made by calling 3782. Many of the WINGS have never visited the hospital. It is earnestly requested that they be present on this occasion and make the Wednesday evening party gay and enjoyable for the boys at the hospital.

Even though the wartime demand on the club women is increasing daily and is being met magnificently by the Federated Club Women of Louisiana, civic work is being carried out on a larger scale than before.

The members of the New Orleans Woman's Club learned that the Kenny unit, located in New Orleans, under the direction of the crippled children's section of the state department of health, needed a piano for the recreation room. They not only gave a piano to the unit, but chose the recreation room as one of their outstanding projects. Toys and games, furnished by this club, will bring much pleasure to the children while they are undergoing treatment for infantile paralysis.

Dr. Branch J. Aymond, director of the crippled children's section, expressed deep appreciation to the New Orleans Woman's Club for the splendid service.

The Business and Professional Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. held their regular dinner meeting at the "Y" Wednesday night.

Miss Sarah Helen Word, speech instructor of Northeast Junior College

read "The White Cliffs" in dramatic manner. Guests of the club were Miss Marguerite King and Miss Eloise Calhoun. The next meeting of the club will be an alfresco meeting and all members are urged to be present.

Every Thursday night is "Bridge Night" at the Selman Field post service club, according to Miss Annette Meyer, club director. Single players will be provided with partners. A social hour, and serving of refreshments, always a feature of these Thursday night bridge affairs will be observed as usual next Thursday.

Mrs. David Hunt has received information that her husband, Staff Sergeant Hunt, United States army air corps, is now stationed in India. Prior to going overseas he was in Denver, Colo., where he received special training in aerial photography.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich and children, Margetta and Bennie, have returned from their fishing lodge near Madisonville, La., where, as customary, they spend several weeks each summer.

Friends witnessed with exceeding regret the departure of Maj. Theodore Merrill for Detroit, Mich., where he is now stationed. Major Merrill was stationed at Selman Field for a year or more and during that time made a wide circle of friends. Mrs. Merrill, affectionately known as Mildred Merrill has carved a special niche for herself socially and in civic circles during her residence in this city. As the director of the Little Theatre she placed this organization on a high plane of excellence and was responsible for enlarging the membership almost twofold. Her departure from the city is indeed a keen blow to Little Theatre members who looked upon her as absolutely essential in the role of director.

Friends are privileged to say goodbye to Mrs. Merrill at informal affairs planned in her honor. This week's courtesy will be a bridge affair with Mrs. Josh Lang hostess at her home in Edgewater Gardens.

Capt. and Mrs. Everett Murphy and small daughter, Marilyn, are spending their vacation in New Jersey where they are visiting relatives. Captain Murphy, who is stationed at Selman field, will return home within a short time. Mrs. Murphy plans to remain for an extended visit.

SOFTBALL SERIES
TO BE CONTINUEDAll State Meets Commandos
Monday, Shield Vs. Hunt,
Whitaker Tuesday

The Allstate Tremen of Sears, Roebuck, defending champions of the Red Shield Senior Softball League, play their first game of the semi-final championship playoff series tomorrow evening when they tackle the Commandos at 6:30 o'clock at the Lida Benton diamond.

In the other half of the semi-final series the Red Shield team and Hunt and Whitaker meet again Tuesday afternoon on the same diamond. The Shields already hold the edge over the Sports in the series, having defeated H. and W. in the championship playoff Thursday afternoon.

One more victory for the Red Shield aggregation would send it against the winner of the Allstate-Commando series, two victories qualifying a team for the finals.

The second Allstate-Commando engagement is slated for Wednesday, and the third Red Shield-Hunt and Whitaker tilt, if necessary, will take place Thursday evening.

The league is in its second season and is sponsored by the Salvation Army here with Capt. Jack Hesketh in charge. O. N. McNeill, long associated with softball circles of the city, is commissioner of the Red Shield league. Finalists in last year's series were Allstate and Monroe Recreation Park. The latter not playing this year but shifting the bulk of its players to Hunt and Whitaker.

TIGERS BEAT CHIXOS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Newhouse, Detroit's star southpaw, scored his 17th victory tonight for a crowd of 17,257, but only after the White Sox, who have been responsible for three of his six defeats this year, made five errors to boot in all the runs in the Tigers' 5 to 3 triumph.

Newhouse, who went the route, was found for 11 hits, including five doubles, by a crowd of 17,257.

Victory came in the ninth, after Ralph Hodgins' fumble of a grounder, a fielder's choice on a bunt, a sacrifice, and an intentional pass filled the bases. Jimmy Outlaw singled through a drawn-in infield to score the two runs that broke the 3-3 tie.

Johnny Humphries, who succeeded Joe Haynes at the start of the ninth, was the losing pitcher.

PELS WALLOP ROCKS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The New Orleans Pelicans backed Pitcher Tom Zachary's expert tossing with a fancy two-pitch attack today to give the Pelicans an 11-0 win over the Little Rock Travelers.

Score by innings:

Little Rock 000 000 000 0 7 1

New Orleans 301 020 05X-11 11 0

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(AP)—There was a bearish trade in the grain futures markets today with wheat hitting new seasonal lows but withstanding the pressure better than oats and rye.

At the close wheat was 1/4 to 5/8 lower than yesterday's finish, September $1.55-1.55 1/8. Oats were 1/8 to 1/4 lower, September 28.8-28.2. Rye was 1/4 to 1/8 lower, September 105 1/4. Barley was off 1/4 to 1/8, September $1.12.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Buyers again took on sizable blocks of low-priced motors in today's stock market, but while scattered pivots attracted modest bids, many issues failed to climb out of the losing rut.

Trends improved selectively after a near-closing session, but remained rather jumbled in a fractional range. Single transactions running to several thousand shares for Graham-Paige, which again was the liveliest performer at a 1944 top, helped put the two-hour volume at around 500,000 shares.

'OTHER SIDE' OF FIGHT IS GIVEN

Benjamin Davis Says C. O. Josey Jr., Shot At Him

The "other side" of a night club fracas Wednesday night that led to the arrest of C. O. Josey Jr., West Monroe, was told yesterday in an alleged statement by Benjamin Davis, about 26, Monroe, who was quoted by Sheriff Milton Coverdale as saying he was the other party in the case who had been reported unidentified Friday.

Sheriff Coverdale said Davis came to his office yesterday and declared he was the man Josey had allegedly shot at following a fist fight, and he said the West Monroe man "was shooting at him and not up into the air."

Josey's story, as related previously by Sheriff Coverdale, was that he was dancing at the club and had "bumped" another couple. He declared the other man attacked him, that both parties then left the club and proceeded to their cars.

Josey, arrested on a warrant issued by Assistant District Attorney J. H. Dorman accusing him of "shooting at with intent to kill 'John Doe,' a person whose real name is unknown to the affiant," was further quoted as saying the other man, after getting in his car, got out and started toward him again. Josey said he had a pistol in his car which he fired once into the air to frighten the man away.

The story said to have been told yesterday by Davis maintained that Josey was the aggressor on the dance floor and had fired the pistol at Davis and not up into the air. The sheriff quoted Davis as saying the couples had "bumped" on the dance floor and that Josey had approached him from behind and struck him on the side of the face. Davis said he then turned on Josey to defend himself and the fight was the result.

Davis said that before he left the club he had removed his coat and necktie. On the way to his car, he said, he dropped the tie and didn't miss it until after he was in the machine. Josey, in the meantime had gone with his party to his car, it was stated. Davis said he got out of the car and went back for his tie, going in the "general direction" of Josey's machine. He declared Josey then jumped out of the car and fired one shot directly at him, the bullet passing just over his head.

Sheriff Coverdale said Davis had been questioned also by Attorney Dorman but that no charges had been filed against him.

SCHOLARSHIP IS TO BE SHARED

Three To Participate In Same Grant To College Entrants

For the first time in the history of Louisiana Tech, three freshmen have been designated as part owners of the same high school scholarship to Tech.

The three students, who were classmates at Ruston High School and who were recently graduated from that school, all are residents of Ruston. They are pictured above, left to right: Jennie Lou Evans, a beginning engineering student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Evans; Edith Ann Jones, who has registered for an academic course, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jones; and William Earl Fowler, freshman in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Fowler. Mr. Jones is a member of the mathematics faculty at Tech.

According to an announcement from the office of President Claybrook Cottingham, here's the way the three-way scholarship came about:

Because the grades made by the three students during their four years of high school were so nearly the same, Principal H. E. Townsend of Ruston was unable to select one student alone for the honor scholarship granted by Tech. So, rather than "draw straws," the three decided to take turns in using the benefits of the scholarship, which exempts the holder from payment of registration fees.

It was agreed that Miss Jones would use the scholarship first. At the start of the second semester, the benefits will be used either by Miss Evans or young Fowler, with the other taking the scholarship the following trimester.

It is possible for the three students to hold the scholarship during their entire time at Tech, but should one of the holders fail to make a B average during the trimester he or she is using the award, the scholarship automatically will be cancelled for all of them.

DESTROYER ESCORT M'GINTY LAUNCHED

ORANGE, Tex., Aug. 5.—(P)—The destroyer escort U. S. S. McGinty was launched today on the anniversary of the death of Soundman 3-c Franklin Alexander McGinty, the Georgia boy for whom it was named.

Mrs. Henry T. Malone of Gadsden, Ala., a stepmother of the sailor, was sponsor. Franklin Alexander's newspaperman father, J. Roy McGinty Sr.; his brother, J. Roy McGinty Jr., and their wives, of Calhoun, Ga., accompanied the sponsor here.

Soundman McGinty was born in Atlanta, Ga. He received the navy cross for heroic efforts to rescue shipmates aboard the U. S. S. Plymouth when that ship was sinking after an underwater explosion Aug. 5, 1943. He lost his life when he went into the ship's flaming armory to rescue a man trapped by fire.

The destroyer escort was launched, side-ways, at yards of the Consolidated Steel Corporation, here.

3 LUCKY FRESHMEN

First time in history of Tech, a trio have interest in the same scholarship. They are (left to right): Jennie Lou Evans, Edith Ann Jones and William Earl Fowler.

DEATHS

J. C. ZEAGLER

WINNBO, La., Aug. 5.—(Special)—Last rites for J. C. Zeagler, 64, who died at his home near Fort Necessity Thursday night, will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Catahoula Church near Enterprise. Burial will follow in Catahoula Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home of Winnboro.

Mr. Zeagler is survived by his wife, Mrs. Virginia Zeagler; two sons, Oliver Zeagler, Fort Necessity, and Ben Zeagler, Augusta, Ga.; two daughters, Mrs. Amy Fugua, Alexandria, and Mrs. Hazel Hefner, Fort Necessity; and a brother, Mr. Zeagler, Fort Necessity.

UNITED WAR FUNDS SUPPLIES BIG SUM

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5.—(P)—Parish Fulfer, president of the United War Fund of Louisiana, said today that nearly $6,000,000 worth of medical supplies and services for war victims of the United Nations are being provided by members agencies of the national war fund during the first nine months of 1944.

Fuller said Russian and Chinese victims of the war receive the largest allocations of money. He said that $2,250,000 has been appropriated for Russian war relief while United China relief has received an appropriation of $2,195,975 for medicine and public health.

Other member agencies receiving appropriations include United Seamen's Service, Norwegian Relief, British War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Belgian War Relief Society, Greek War Relief Association, Polish War Relief, United Yugoslav Relief Fund, and United Czechoslovakia Relief.

NAZI U-BOAT SUNK BY DEPTH CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(P)—Blasting a Nazi submarine with depth charges, a coast guard-manned destroyer escort sank the raider in the Atlantic "recently," the navy reported today.

Location of the action in which a navy-manned destroyer escort and a French destroyer escort joined was not disclosed.

First contact with the U-boat was made by the coast guard vessel under command of Commander Ralph R. Curry, Alexandria, Va., when she answered a call for assistance from another ship.

Depth charges laid about the U-boat forced it to the surface, badly damaged. "As the submersible, badly blasted, was about to make its final plunge," the navy said "its crew took to the sea and were picked up by the coast guard ship as prisoners of war."

ACCUSED NEGRO IS FOUND IN HOSPITAL

Willie L. Richardson, 23, Negro, wanted here for allegedly drawing and cashing bogus drafts, has been located in a veterans' hospital at Tuskegee, Ala. Sheriff Milton Coverdale said last night. A detainer has been placed on the Negro and he will be returned here as soon as he is able to leave the hospital, it was said.

Sheriff Coverdale said the drafts, several of which were cashed here, were drawn on P. P. Norman, Oak Ridge.

GAIL PATRICK HERE

Gail Patrick, the movie actress, passed through Monroe last night, pausing only momentarily as the Delta Air Lines plane on which she was traveling stopped at Selman Field. Miss Patrick came through here on a west bound plane about 9:30 p. m.

OPEN AIR CIRCUS CALLED SUCCESS

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 5.—(P)—President Robert Ringling of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus has a "fifth inning" problem, now that "The Greatest Show On Earth" is without its canvas canopy.

The circus showed for the first time yesterday without the "big top," lost July 6 in the Hartford, Conn. fire fatal to 167 persons.

"Now that we are under the blue heavens, we seem to be comparable to baseball clubs," said Ringling after the initial appearance in Akron's Rubber Bowl.

Major league clubs issue rain checks after four and a half innings if the home team is trailing. If the host club is ahead, it's a complete game.

"We'll go along with that setup," said Ringling. "We have 22 displays. If we're rained out before half are completed, I believe it should call for a rain check. If not, it's a complete performance theoretically."

Silk-hatted Fred Bradna, 72-year-old ringmaster, placed his personal seal of approval on performances without the "big top."

"Impressive in the day time and magnificent under artificial lights," declared the picturesque maestro. "The circus attracted approximately 9,000 to Akron's stadium last night and about 2,000 yesterday."

George W. Smith, circus general manager, said plans called for a return to "the big top" next season.

After completing a three-day appearance here Sunday, the circus will proceed to Detroit, Chicago, Indianapolis and Milwaukee.

DEATH TAKES LAST OF CHERRY SISTERS

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 5.—(P)—The curtain dropped for the last time on one of the most famous (but terrible) acts of the Gas-Lit Opera House's Florida days when Elsie Cherry, last of the famous Cherry sisters, died in a nursing home today.

She suffered a broken hip last spring and failed to rally. She entered the nursing home only a few days ago.

Elsie was left a lonely woman when her sister and stage partner, Addie, died October 25, 1942, at the age of 83. Nobody knew exactly how old Elsie was, for she turned aside all queries on her age with the remark "I ain't a-sayin'." However, one source listed her birth date as August 26, 1878, which would make her 65.

Shortly after making their stage debut in an amateur show at Marion, Iowa, late in the last century, the Cherry sisters were taken to New York by Oscar Hammerstein because he heard they were so terrible they attracted huge crowds.

NEGRO SUCCUMBS OF HEART TROUBLE

Dr. J. T. French, parish coroner, yesterday said the death of Robert Washington, 41, Negro, at the Illinois Central Passenger Station Friday night was the result of a heart attack.

Police Sgt. W. O. Causey and Officers P. K. Henn and J. R. Cullipher, first officials on the scene, reported the Negro lived on the Hodges plantation nine miles south of Delta, and that he came here on a Friday night train with his wife with the intention of entering the charity hospital for treatment.

The Negro was said to have suffered the fatal attack a moment after stepping off the train, and died before he could be taken to a seat in the waiting room of the station.

BASTROP MAN WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(P)—The War Department announced today the names of 1511 United States soldiers wounded in action on the various war fronts. The list included the following: Pvt. Charles L. Smith, Mrs. Onie Smith, mother, McCright street, Bastrop.

U. S. TOUGH IN WORK SITUATION

Employers In Labor-Tight Areas Must Fire Some Employees

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(P)—The government has suddenly become tougher with civilian workers and employers than at any time in history. The government has become this tough:

Employers in labor-shortage areas can be forced to fire workers whom the government thinks could better be used somewhere else in a civilian job helping the war.

War Mobilizer Byrnes, looking for a way to provide sufficient workers for war jobs, has told the war agencies they now have the power to force compliance with their manpower demands.

He says they should use it when necessary.

"In 99 per cent of the cases," a high spokesman for the war manpower commission said, "it won't be necessary to force lay-off of workers. It may be necessary in 5 or 10 cases."

If an employer refuses to comply with government orders on his manpower, Byrnes has instructed the agencies to use sanctions against him. They could take this form, in Byrnes' own words:

Shutting off his materials, power, fuel, transportation. In other words: His business could be forced into closing until he complied.

Actually what probably will happen in most cases in labor-tight areas is this:

Ceilings will be placed on war industries to compel better use of manpower. And in the same areas manpower ceilings will be placed on less essential industries.

For instance, John Jones employs 100 men in his business which is "less essential." The government will say he needs only 75 men. So he will be allowed to hire any more until, through quitting or some other reason, his total staff is down to 75.

This control will be used by the WMC and its United States employment service offices which will refuse to refer workers or let him have any workers until his staff has dwindled to 75.

Here is how the machinery works: The country has been divided into four groups of labor areas, according to the labor supply in each. Group 1 is the most critically short of workers. Group 2 is less critically short. And so on down to group 4 which may have plenty of labor available.

The forced lay-offs, if they occur, will be in groups 1 and 2.

Those two labor area groups have two special committees called production urgency committees and manpower priorities committees. They are composed of representatives of the army, navy, maritime commission, war production board and WMC.

The production urgency committee decides upon the relative importance to war production of the various plants in its area.

Then the manpower priorities committee decides which plant, in accordance with the urgency committee's findings, shall get manpower or needs less manpower or should be forced to lay-off workers.

It is this manpower priorities committee which holds the big manpower stick. If it runs into a balky employer, it reports to the chairman of WMC. He then asks the various war agencies dealing in any way with that employer's plants to invoke the sanctions mentioned above.

When asked where there was any difference between this kind of control over manpower and the labor draft which the armed services unsuccessfully asked Congress to set up by law, the WMC spokesman said:

"Under a labor draft a worker could be forced to work where the government wanted him to work. Under this kind of control, a boss could lay-off a worker needed somewhere else, but the worker still could work."

But—if that worker refused the job suggested to him by government, he'd probably have time trying to get the government to allow him to take another.

BURMA—I MEAN MISS CHEDDO...DO YOU THINK IT'S QUITE RIGHT FOR US TO LIVE HERE UNDER FALSE PRETENSES? YOU'RE NOT MY TUTOR...

...YOUR NAME IS NOT CORNELIA CHEDDO—AND I DON'T THINK MY FATHER OWNED THE LAND THESE AIRMEN ARE USING AS A BASE!

WILLOW, MY HONEST AND WIDE-EYED CHICK, YOU HAVE NEVER MADE ANY OF THOSE CLAIMS... I DID! BESIDES, BURMA ISN'T MY REAL NAME EITHER!

IT'S ALL QUITE CONFUSING... I AM SO VERY FOND OF YOU—AND GRATEFUL TO YOU FOR SO MANY THINGS.

BUT YOUR CONSCIENCE HURTS, HUH?... DON'T FRET, LA BELINDA, YOU HAVEN'T DONE ANYTHING—EXCEPT TO PUT ALL THESE PILOTS INTO FLAT SPINS—STRAIGHT UP!

THE BOYS HAVE ALL BEEN SO NICE TO ME—BUT IF YOU HADN'T DELIBERATELY MADE YOURSELF AUSTERE—AND IF I WEREN'T THE ONLY ELIGIBLE GIRL AROUND...

PLAY YOUR CARDS AS THEY FALL, WILLIE! WHICH OF THE ROCKERS HAS TOPSIDE PRIORITY ON YOUR SIGHS AND MURMURS? WHICH ONE SHOWS UP BEST IN YOUR FULL COLOR DREAMS?

WELL, LIEUT. CHARLES IS FUN, BUT HE'S NOT VERY TALL... CAPTAIN TUMBLIN IS TALL, BUT HE'S NOT MUCH FUN... LIEUT. TERRY LEE IS SORT OF, WELL, IN BETWEEN...

WHICH PUTS HIM JUST ABOUT OUT IN FRONT AT THE THREE QUARTER POLE, HUH? SOUNDS AS IF TERRY—HEY! SIREN! AIR RAID!

IN THE DARK AND IN THE RAIN!...OH, DEAR, WHERE DID I PUT THAT TORCH?

FORGET THE FLASHLIGHT! HIT THAT TRENCH! I SHOULD LIVE SO LONG—AND THEN END UP AS PART OF THE TOPOGRAPHIC MAP OF THIS SNAKE FARM!

BURMA! WILLOW!

IT'S TERRY!... WE HEARD THE SIREN—WE'RE DRESSED!

I'M NOT ALERTED—YOUR TRENCH WILL BE FULL OF WATER AND WHAT NOT... THERE'S A COVERED, DRY SHELTER DOWN THE LINE... I'LL TAKE YOU THERE!

OUR KNIGHT IN SHINING ARMOR!...LEAVE US GET GOIN'!

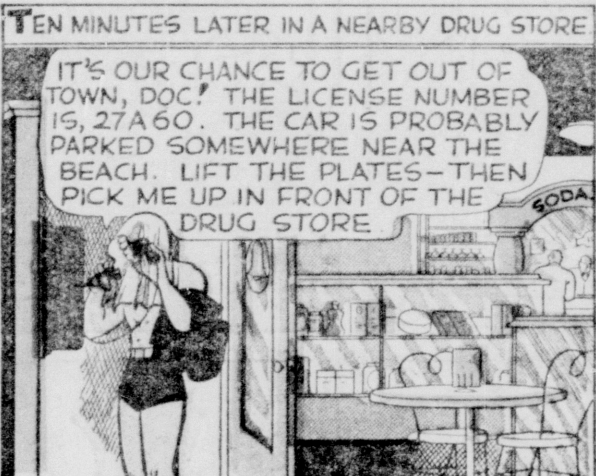

NO TIME TO WAIT FOR BOOTS... THIS IS A CARRYING JOB!

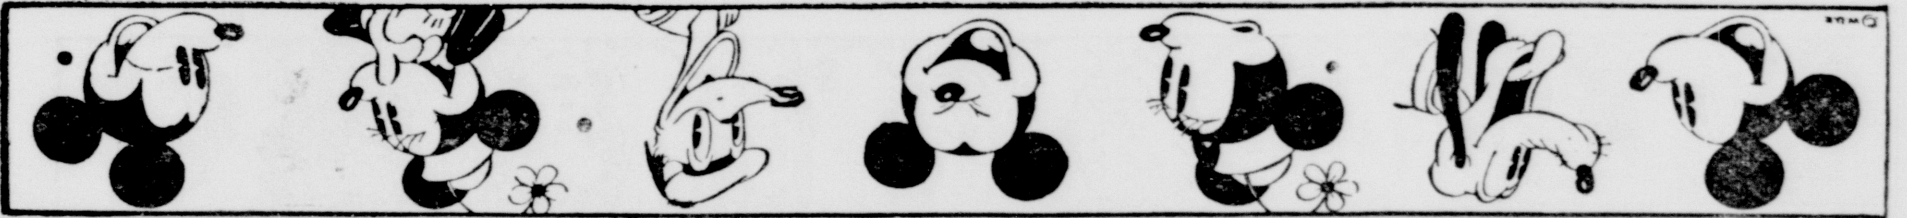

TERRY, ARE YOU SURE THERE'S AN AIR RAID?

SPECIAL DELIVERY!

FOR ME?

NO, ME.

LET'S SEE.

WHOOPEE!

A CHECK FOR $23.00

WHEN I TOOK GIBBIE THE GOAT'S IOU - I NEVER EXPECTED TO SEE THE DOUGH.

WELL, TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT IT, DEARIE. YOU WON'T KEEP IT LONG

HUH?

I IMAGINE THE MADAM WILL EXPECT YOU TO PAY FOR THE MESS YOU MADE OF THIS WALL.

YES, I THINK $23.00 WILL JUST ABOUT COVER THE COST OF PAYING A PAINTER.

PLENTY OF TOMATO SOUP LEFT. THAT'S A BREAK.

LISTEN, STAUTZ - IT'S JEST A LITTLE JOB -- YEH, I KNOW THAT'S JUST A ROUGH ESTIMATE.

TELL HIM IT'S TOO ROUGH. I'LL DO IT FOR HALF HIS PRICE.

GOOD GOSH! IF IT WASN'T FOR ME THEY WOULDN'T BE A BRAIN IN OUR FAMBY.

KAYO!

HOW'S ZAT? I'M GIVIN' TH' WALL A GOOD COAT OF SOUP TO MATCH TH' SPOT. AND NOBODY'D NEVER KNOW IT WAS EVER THERE.

I GOT A NOTION NOT TO USE MY BRAINS ANYMORE. NOBODY AROUND HERE'S GOT SENSE ENOUGH TO APPRECIATE 'EM.

KITTY HIGGINS

FEVVEN'S SAKE! JES LOOK AT DAT FACE, CHILE.

YEH - I KNOW. I'M A 52ND ST. COMMANDO.

WELL, YO' GO WASH IT AN' GIT IN BED.

I'LL JUST GO TO BED.

WE'RE GOING ON ANOTHER RAID TOMORROW NIGHT AND I'D JUST BE WASTIN' SOME GOOD SOOT IF I WASHED THIS OFF.

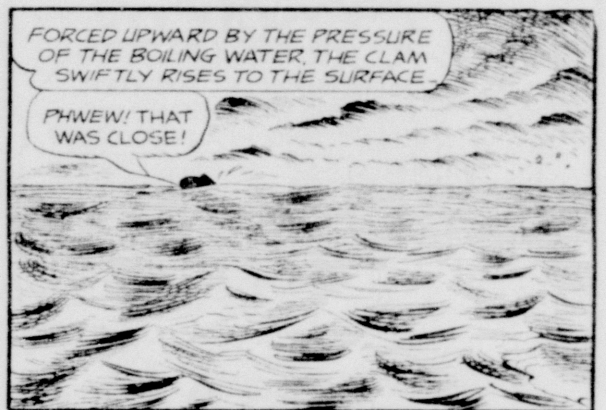

THE EXPLOSION OF THE UNDERSEA VOLCANO TURNED THE WATER AROUND THE CLAM INTO A BOILING, SEETHING MASS--

WE'LL B-BE STEAMED ALIVE--

QUICK, CHESTER-- SURFACE-- WITH ALL SHE'S GOT--

BY GAW! WE ALWAYS IN SOME KIND HOT WATER--

FORCED UPWARD BY THE PRESSURE OF THE BOILING WATER, THE CLAM SWIFTLY RISES TO THE SURFACE.

PHWEW! THAT WAS CLOSE!

LOOK, BULL MOOSE! THE STARS ARE OUT--

MON DIEU! I HAVE ALMOST FORGOT THERE IS SUCH THING AS SKY--

WHERE WE ARE PROFESSOR?!

IF I'M NOT MISTAKEN, WE'RE SOMEWHERE IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF THE SAMOAN ISLANDS--

YOU'D BETTER TAKE OUR BEARINGS, CHESTER, AND MAKE SURE--

YES-SIR! -WE'LL BE--

WHAT IS IT, CHESTER??

A DESTROYER! AN AMERICAN DESTROYER! OH, BOY!

WHERE?

I SEE HER--WHY SHE ALMOST SIT ON TOP OF US--

OK BOYS! THERE THEY ARE!!!

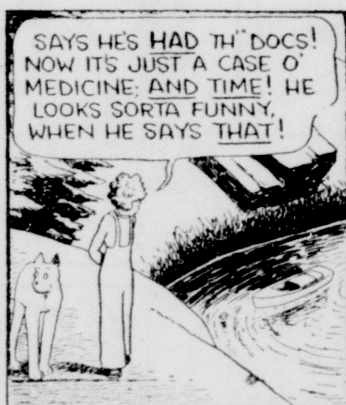

HEY! SHE'S TRAINING HER GUNS ON US--

Little Orphan Annie

"DADDY" WARBUCKS IS BACK FROM THE WAR-- RESTING UP HE SAYS-- WHAT BETTER PLACE TO REST, THAN HERE AT PEACEFUL PIRATE COVE?

GEE, SANDY! I'M AWFULLY WORRIED 'BOUT "DADDY"! JUST A LITTLE JUNGLE FEVER, HE CLAIMS--

SAYS HE'S HAD TH' DOCS! NOW IT'S JUST A CASE O' MEDICINE, AND TIME! HE LOOKS SORTA FUNNY, WHEN HE SAYS THAT!

MRS. HEPZIBAH HOLD IS A SWELL OLD LADY-- "DADDY" AND HER HUSBAND, CAPN HEZEKIAH, WERE GREAT FRIENDS, BUT HE DIED, MANY YEARS AGO--

COURSE, IF "DADDY" ONLY NEEDS A REST, THIS IS TH' BEST PLACE FOR IT-- STILL--

OH, HELLO, ANNIE! HAVEN'T HAD MUCH CHANCE TO TALK TO YOU-- WHAT'S THIS I HEAR?

THEY TELL ME YOU WERE LIVING AMONG CROOKS-- EVEN GOT INTO SCHOOL WITH A FAKED BIRTH CERTIFICATE--

WELL, THEY WERE NICE TO ME-- AND I DIDN'T KNOW 'BOUT TH' PHONEY BIRTH CERTIFICATE-- 'TILL AFTERWARDS--

I GUESS TH' DUKE FIGGERED IT WAS TH' SIMPLEST WAY TO KEEP ME OUT OF A JAM-- OR A "HOME"! COURSE IT WAS WRONG!

HMM! THE DUKE, EH?

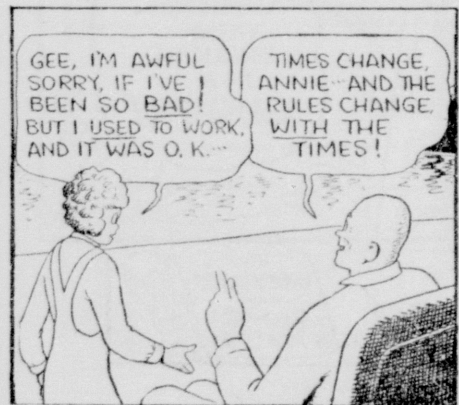

YES-- IT WAS WRONG-- BUT YOU DIDN'T KNOW-- AND IT'S OVER NOW-- BUT WHAT'S THIS ABOUT YOU EVADING THE LAW, BY WORKING, AT YOUR TENDER AGE?

OH, THAT! WELL, I WAS ON MY OWN-- IT DIDN'T SEEM AS THOUGH I WAS DOIN' WRONG--

COURSE THEY SPLAINED IT TO ME, AFTERWARD! BUT IF I COULDN'T EARN MY WAY, IT'D HAVE MEANT GOIN' INTO A "HOME", SURE!

GEE, I'M AWFUL SORRY, IF I'VE BEEN SO BAD! BUT I USED TO WORK, AND IT WAS O. K.--

TIMES CHANGE, ANNIE-- AND THE RULES CHANGE, WITH THE TIMES!

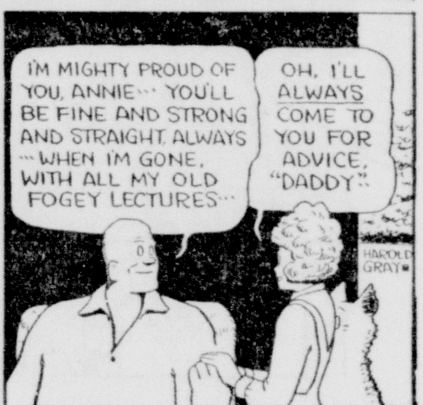

BUT DON'T WORRY ABOUT IT ANY MORE-- YOU'VE LEARNED, AND NO HARM DONE--

GEE! I'LL SURE BE CAREFUL NOT TO SLIP AGAIN!

AFTER ALL, IT WAS MY FAULT NOT YOURS! I'VE ALWAYS TAUGHT YOU TO STAND ALONE-- TO BE PROUD AND INDEPENDENT!-- THE WAY I WAS RAISED--

OH, I'LL ALWAYS TRY TO BE THAT WAY, "DADDY", NO MATTER WHAT!

I'M MIGHTY PROUD OF YOU, ANNIE-- YOU'LL BE FINE AND STRONG AND STRAIGHT ALWAYS-- WHEN I'M GONE, WITH ALL MY OLD FOGGY LECTURES--

OH, I'LL ALWAYS COME TO YOU FOR ADVICE, "DADDY"--

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

YOU'VE BEEN PADDLING AROUND HERE ALL AFTERNOON! WELL, MY WIFE KNOCKED ME FOR A ROW!

THE NOT BROS. CHES and WAL

WHY ALL THE DISHES, WAITER, AND TWO POTATOES IN EACH DISH? OH, THE BOSS JUST TOLD ME TO PAIR THE POTATOES!

I ASKED YOU FOR A BUCK AND YOU GAVE ME A DIME! YES! THAT IS MY NEW LEND-LEAST POLICY!

ONE ZOTT-INA YOUR DRESS IS ATROCIOUS, MRS. SMITH, AND THAT NEW HAT OF YOURS IS POSITIVELY HORRID!

I'M KNITTING A SWEATER FOR MY PIG! THAT'S A LOT OF PURLS TO PUT ON A SWINE!

EGAD! I HAVEN'T BEEN FEELING MYSELF THE LAST FEW DAYS HOPE A SPELL OF SICKNESS ISN'T IN STORE FOR ME!

I'D GO HAVE A CHECK-UP BUT I'D GUSPSE THE DOCTOR DECIDED TO WHISK ME AWAY FOR AN OPERATION!

DR. B. BLOTE

UM! I HAVE 60 CENTS - WHY NOT LET THE SWAMI PEER INTO MY FUTURE?

HA, SAHIB! IN ZE BALL I SEE WHEELS AND SHIPS AND BALLOONS; INVITING! EGAD! YOU ARE ON ZE GO, GO, GO - TRAVEL ALL OVER ZE GLOBE!

YOU SIT IN SEDAN WITH CHAIR ANOZZER MAN WHO ARE INDIAN PRINCE! NICE COUNTRY YOU HAVE HERE, PRINCE!

THANK YOU SO MUCH, QUEEN! NOW YOU ARE RIDE IN WHAT YOU CALL GONDOLA, AND ORIENTAL QUEEN GEEVE YOU EXPENSIVE PERFUME =

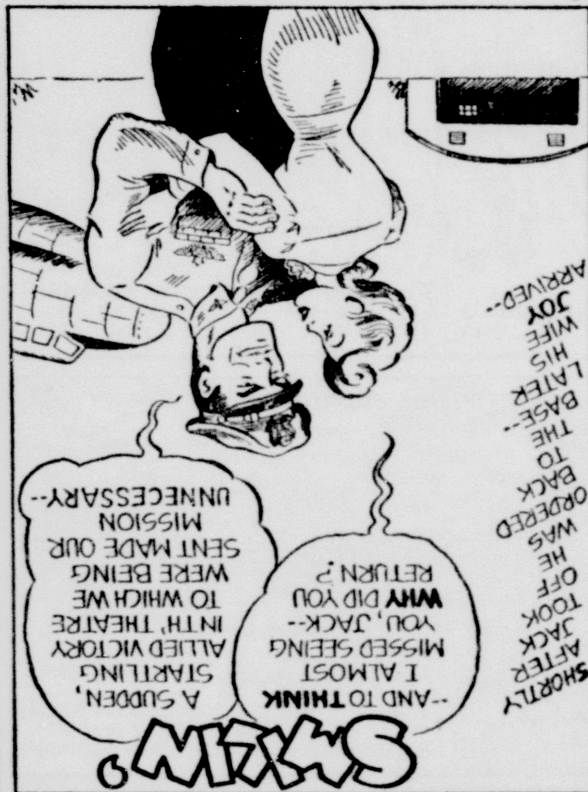

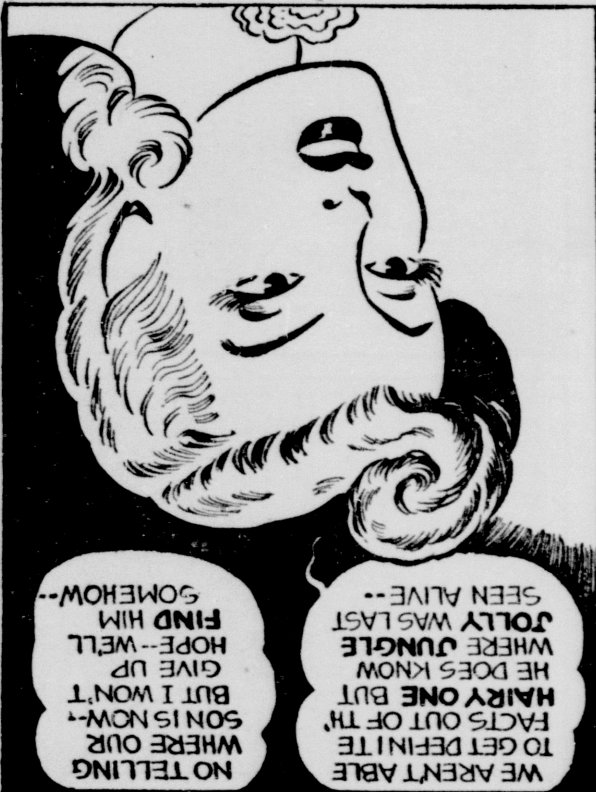

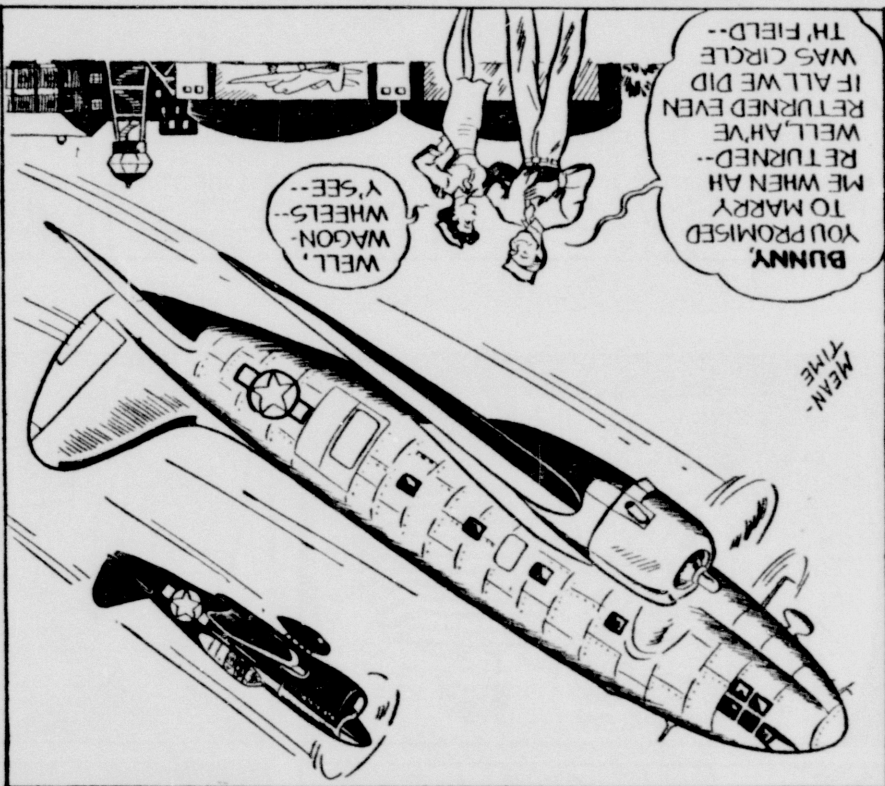

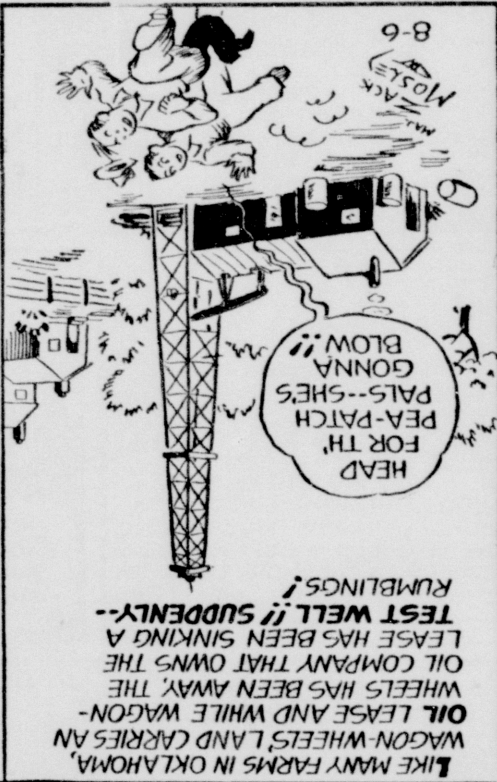

ALL OVER ZE WORLD YOU TRAVEL ONE DAY YOU ARE HUNT BEASTS ON ROYAL ELEPHANT IN BEEG JUNGLE!

VERY NICE STEPPES, PREMIER, STALIN! NOW YOU GO WHIZ IN SPECIAL TRAIN ACROSS ROSSIA, GUEST OF HONOR OF ZE BEEG SHOT, JOE!

ALL ZIS IS AFTER ZE WAR, MY FRIEND - AN' LAST BUT NOT LEAST, I SEE YOU TOUR THE BRITISH EMPIRE IN BALLOON WEETH CHURCHILL!

THANK YOU, SWAMI! - AND HERE'S A TEN-CENT TIP - MY WORD, YOUR POWERS OF PROGNOSTICATION ARE EXTRAORDIN - ARY!

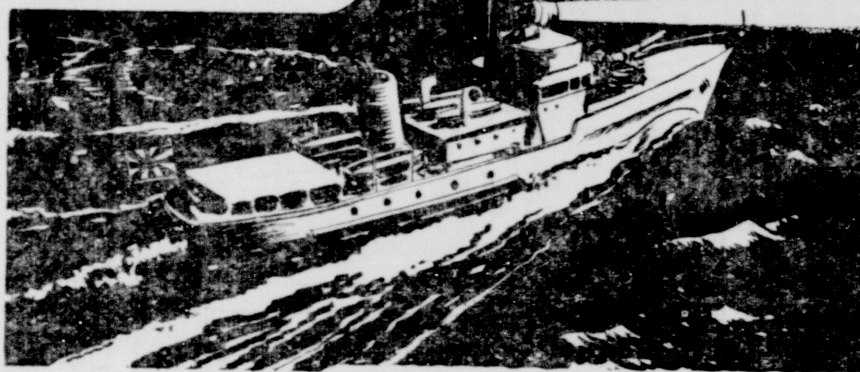

EGAD! WHAT A BLISSFUL PROSPECT! 8-6

CAPTAIN EASY

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

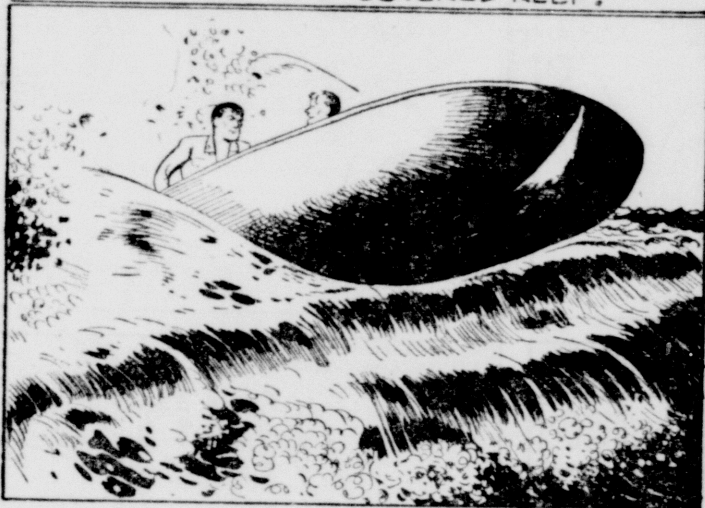

CAPT. MYLES FERTHA, A STRANDED PILOT, FROM A JAP-HELD ISLAND, TRIES TO CUT OFF HIS ESCAPE...

WE'VE JUST ENOUGH SPEED TO REACH THE REEF AHEAD OF 'EM!

BUT CAN WE OUTRUN A 4-INCH SHELL?

ZIP! THE SMALL CRAFT BARELY CLEARS THE TIDE-COVERED REEF!

THEY HAVE FOUND A PASS THROUGH THE REEF! FOLLOW THEM!

THERE IS NO PASS HERE, SIR! OUR SOUNDINGS SHOW--

SILENCE! I SAW THEM GO THROUGH! PROCEED!

BLAZES! THAT WAS CLOSE!

THEY'VE GOT US BRACKETED! CHANGE COURSE, EASY... HEY, LOOK! THEY'RE TRYIN' TO FOLLOW US THROUGH THE REEF!

WE STRUCK THE REEF!

BUMP KE-RASH!

SHE'S SINKING, EASY! YOU LED HER SMACK TO HER DOOM!

AT DAWN THE SMALL BOAT NEARS ITS RENDEZVOUS WITH THE DESTROYER...

LOOK THERE! WE'RE ABOUT TO PICK UP A HITCH-HIKER!
